

Homer Wins For Yankees

Henrich Connected With a Home Run In Last of Ninth To Beat Dodgers 1-0

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Oct. 5—(AP)—Tommy Henrich's dramatic home run clout into the lower right field seats leading off the last of the ninth gave the New York Yankees a 1-0 opening World Series victory over Brooklyn today, ending a sizzling mound battle between Allie Reynolds and Don Newcombe.

The score by innings:
First Inning Dodgers
Reese watched Reynolds' first two pitches across the heart of the plate for strikes, then looked at a ball, then rolled to Henrich who made the unassisted putout at first. Lindell started late for Jorgensen's fly to left center and the ball went over his head for a two base hit. Snider swung and missed a three and two pitch and became Reynolds' first strikeout victim. Mapes moved a few feet to his right to gather in Robinson's easy fly.

First Inning Yankees
With the count one and one, Rizzuto attempted to bunt but raised a short foul which Hodges caught in front of the Yankee dugout. Reese gathered in Henrich's sharp grounder and tossed him out. Reese backed up camp under Berra's high popout, camp under erra's high popout.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.
Second Inning Dodgers
Hermanski walked on a full count. Furillo also worked the count to three and two before getting his base on balls. Hodges fouled off two attempted sacrifice bunts, then rapped back to the box. Reynolds speared the bouncer and started a double play. He threw to Coleman who forced Furillo at second and Coleman whipped to Henrich to double up Hodges at first. Mapes stood in his tracks to catch Campanella's high fly.

Second Inning Yankees
DiMaggio attempted to hold back his swing on the third strike, but broke his wrist and was ruled a strikeout victim by Umpire Hubbard. Lindell timed a changeup pace expertly and stroked it into left field for a single, the first Yankee hit of the game. Johnson struck out swinging, missing a high fast pitch for the third strike. Newcombe, blazingly fast, in this hazy muggy weather, poured a third strike past the swinging Mapes to retire the side via the strikeout route.

Third Inning Dodgers
Rizzuto came in fast for Newcombe's dribbler to the left of the mound and whipped him out at first. Johnson and Henrich collaborated to retire Reese on a nice play. The third baseman came in fast to make a nice bare handed pickup and underhand throw of Reese's bunt. Henrich helped with a long stretch and

Downtown Chest Committee Meets

The Downtown committee of the Community Chest met Tuesday night in the Chamber of Commerce offices at 112 West Fourth street.

According to the Downtown chairman, Arthur J. Morgan the team captains were instructed in campaign procedure and received work materials.

Charles Maggard is assistant chairman and the Downtown team captains are as follows: C. W. Stevenson, Paul Maxwell, Charles W. Hanna, Abe Silverman, Julius Stohr, A. W. Haller, Lloyd Taylor, T. L. Hanigan, Lloyd Phillips, Bill Ward, Bob Cain, Maurice Hogan, Vivian Warren and O. J. Durvall. Each of the team captains have several assistants who will aid them in their work.

Jack Cunningham, general chairman of the Community Chest and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, John Zander, were also present. The drive is to open Monday morning.

Lexington Votes Levy For New Hospital
LEXINGTON, Mo., Oct. 5—(AP)—Voters approved a two-mill maintenance levy for the new memorial hospital here in a special election yesterday, by a vote of 381 to 37.

The new hospital is scheduled to open the end of the year.

ALLIE REYNOLDS

Henrich lifted a long drive in the last of the ninth inning for a home run, the Yankees taking the final game 1 to 0 over the Brooklyn Dodgers. Allie Reynolds pitched a magnificent game for his Yankee teammates.

Gideons to Arrive Here On Friday

Hundred From Outside Sedalia to Be At Convention

The 45th annual convention of the Missouri Gideons will be held in Sedalia October 7 to 9, at which time more than one hundred members of that organization from over the state are expected to attend.

The Gideons Association was organized for the purpose of spreading Christianity and is composed of Christian business and professional men as well as men in other types of work. The one thing for which the Gideons are best known and which constitutes a great part of their work is the distribution of Gideon Bibles to such places as hotels, motels and penal institutions. The number of these Bibles which have been placed are approximately three million. During the war the Gideons provided each man in the Armed Forces with a Gideon Bible and that service is still continuing with each man entering service receiving a Bible. There have been 1 million such Bibles distributed. Now the Gideon Association is carrying out a plan to see that each school child from the fifth grade through high school possesses a Gideon testament. This plan is now expanded to reach school children all over the world.

Officers in State
State officers are: E. B. Forbes, St. Louis, president; H. E. Lindstrom, Sedalia, vice president; W. C. Tobey, St. Louis, secretary; R. B. Dunham, Springfield, treasurer and E. M. Bernard, St. Louis, state chaplain.

Clarence Steele is the president of the Sedalia club. All sessions of the convention will be held at the First Methodist church, Fourth street and Osage avenue, starting with the registration at 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The meeting will begin at 2:30 o'clock with prayer and song service, discussion of reports and announcements.

The night session will start at 7:30 o'clock with a sing-spiration. There will also be talks and the showing of the sound film, "Out of the Night."

A street meeting will be held at 9:30 o'clock at Third street and Ohio avenue.

The opening session on Saturday morning will be at 8:00 o'clock.

Drop Past Week on Wholesale Food Prices

NEW YORK, Oct. 5—(AP)—The Dun & Bradstreet whole food price index dropped to the lowest level in three years the past week. It declined to $5.65 from $5.67 in the preceding week and was 13.2 per cent below the year-ago index of $6.51.

The new figure is the lowest since the week ended Oct. 8, 1946, when the index was $5.40. Shortly thereafter, the last OPA controls on livestock and meats were removed and prices skyrocketed.

Chest Information Given Lions by Jack Cunningham

Community Chest information was furnished members of the Sedalia Lions club at its noonday meeting, today, at the Bothwell hotel by Jack Cunningham, general chairman of the chest drive, which starts Monday, October 10.

Chairman Cunningham introduced Stansel E. DeFoe who spoke on the Boy Scouts, one of the participating agencies in the chest. Art Morgan, chairman of the Downtown committee, spoke on his organization, and Claude Boul presented a motion picture of the activity of the Girl Scouts of Sedalia.

Cunningham reviewed the other participating agencies, the Melita Day Nursery, Negro Nursery, the

Smoke From Cook Book in an Oven

TRENTON, Mo., Oct. 5—(AP)—When nobody else could figure out where the smoke was coming from, Fire Chief Hobart Sparks discovered it was a cook book cooking in the oven.

Store employees turned in an alarm yesterday when they smelled smoke but could not find the source.

Sparks found the trouble when he opened the oven door of an electric range on display in the store. A charred cook book was putting out the smoke.

A salesman said he turned on the stove while showing it to a customer, but didn't know the electric current was plugged in.

For Military Strength Pool

Active Work to Build up For Ample Defense

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5—(AP)—Defense chiefs of the United States and 11 other western nations start active work today on plans to pool their military might against any aggressive attack.

They make up the defense committee provided for in the North Atlantic Pact. U. S. military headquarters in the Pentagon was the scene for the opening meeting (1:30 p. m. CST).

The main tasks of the group in the two-day session are to set up eight or more organizations which will do the real military spadework and to clear the way for the billion-dollar flow of American arms aid just approved by Congress.

President Truman's Sept. 23 announcement of the Soviet atomic explosion gave a sombre urgency to the meeting, but did not advance it. Arrangements have been in progress for weeks.

Britain's A. V. Alexander and Paul Ramadier of France were among the defense ministers on hand.

Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, top American representative and chairman, was on the program for an informal welcome and address before doors were closed for the initial working session.

As a first order of business, the defense committee had the creation of (1) a military committee composed of chiefs of staff, (2) a 3-nation standing group with the United States, Britain and France represented, (3) a supply and production board to supervise the distribution and manufacture of arms and (4) five regional planning groups.

Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the American joint chiefs of staff, is the U. S. representative on both the professional military committee and the three-nation standing group.

The two-day session of the defense committee is to be followed immediately by the first work of the military committee, composed of the chiefs of staff or their representatives.

Would Fight Referendum On 'Gas' Tax

Head of MFA Would Act as An Individual

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 5—(AP)—The president of the Missouri Farmers' Association will make a personal fight to block a referendum test of Missouri's new gasoline tax increase law, it was reported today.

The law would double the state gasoline tax levy of two cents to provide better country roads. It doesn't become effective until Oct. 14. But before, that time four organizations hope to file enough referendum petitions to force the law to a popular vote test.

A. D. Sappington, attorney for the M. F. A. said he would ask Cole county circuit judge Sam C. Blair to bar the secretary of state from certifying a referendum election on the question.

It has been reported the new law's opponents will file their petitions with the secretary of state either late this week or early next week.

Sappington said the injunction suit would not be filed until after the petitions are in.

Sappington, reached at his home in Columbia, said he was representing F. V. Heinkel, president of the M. F. A. Sappington is general counsel for the biggest farmers' organization in Missouri. He said Heinkel was acting as an individual and not as an officer for the farmers' group.

Attorney States Position
The attorney said he believes it is unconstitutional for a referendum to be called on the new law. He said previous court decisions have held roads to be public institutions. And the Missouri constitution provides that laws making appropriations for a state institution may not be subjected to a popular vote test.

The disclosure by Sappington provided another facet to the already many-sided road battle.

Four organizations—The Missouri Automobile Club, the State Bus and Truck Association, Petroleum Industries Committee and Missouri Petroleum Association—have joined forces to oppose the tax increase law. For the past month they have been trying to get the 55,000 signers to force the new law to a popular vote.

Meanwhile Gov. Forrest Smith, who recommended the tax increase to get rural Missouri "out of the mud," was busy also.

Two weeks ago he said if the petitions are filed with secretary of state Walter H. Toberman he will ask the legislature to call a special election to dispose of the question quickly. He said his plan is to ask the general assembly to write one is killed by popular vote.

Without a special election the vote—and the operation of the law—would be delayed at least until the general election in November, 1950.

Monday the governor made public further plans to combat opponents.

He said he was considering asking legislature to set higher state fees for bus and truck operators. He might even ask that out of state truckers be forced to pay full fees to drive over Missouri roads, he said.

Under present reciprocity agreements with 19 other states, trucks from those states don't pay any special fees to use highways here. Smith said Missouri was losing $5,000,000 a year because of the reciprocity agreements.

Grandpa And Grandma of Year

CHICAGO, Oct. 5—(AP)—Vice President Barkley and Hedda Hopper, Hollywood columnist, have been named "Grandfather and Grandmother of the year."

The nominations were announced today by the Chicago Grandfathers and Grandmothers club. The club's 500 members have invited the Vee and Hedda to attend a club luncheon Sunday, so they can be crowned.

An invitation also went to Mrs. Carlton Hadley of St. Louis, friend of the vice president.

Largest Auction Ever of Shetlands

PONCA CITY, Okla., Oct. 5—(AP)—The 175 shetland ponies owned by the late Lew Wentz brought $66,605 in a dispersal sale here described by the Wentz office as the largest shetland auction ever held.

Seventy saddle horses also were auctioned off yesterday, bringing $11,560.

W. P. Atkinson of Oklahoma City paid $4,000 for the Earl of Linwood a seven-year-old shetland stallion standing 41 inches high. That was the top price in the sale.

Wentz, oil man and philanthropist, died in June.

Will Sign Arms Bill Thursday

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5—(AP)—President Truman will sign tomorrow the bill authorizing $1-314,010,000 for arms aid to North Atlantic Pact nations.

A group of legislators who helped steer the legislation through Congress shave been invited to witness the signing at 10 a. m. CST.

Once Home of Carnegie Now Schoolhouse

NEW YORK, Oct. 5—(AP)—The one-time palatial Fifth Avenue home of the late Andrew Carnegie today was converted officially into a schoolhouse.

The imposing, 90-room mansion now houses the New York School of Social Work, a part of Columbia University.

Still Apart On Rail Strike

Missouri Pacific And Unions in Tug of War

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5—(AP)—The Missouri Pacific and four striking unions are still having a bitter tug of war in their dispute that tied up the railroad Sept. 9.

Which side will weaken? There was no evidence today that either would make any immediate major concessions. Both seemed determined to settle only on their own terms.

The company has steadfastly maintained there would be no settlement unless the strike first is called off. The unions insist that the biggest part of 282 claims against the railroad must be paid before they order some 5,000 operating employees back to work.

Latest move in the struggle was made yesterday by Guy A. Thompson, MoPac trustee. He called the union chiefs in for a meeting—and formally rejected the proposal that the big pending money cases be settled by direct negotiation.

Thompson renewed his offer to give the dispute, arising from interpretation of operating rules, to a board of three referees.

The unions promptly turned down this offer for the second time.

Not one of the 282 union claims that touched off the strike has been settled thus far. No further meetings were scheduled.

States To Take Hand

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 5—(AP)—States affected by the Missouri Pacific railroad strike take a hand tomorrow at trying to settle the tie-up.

Gov. Forrest Smith's office reported today at least seven of the 11 Missouri Pacific states will be represented at a meeting in St. Louis governed by Smith.

Two governors—Sid McMath of Arkansas and Frank Carlson of Kansas—have arranged to join Smith there. Other state representatives who have made reservations are:

George D. Green, chief of conciliation of the Illinois department of Labor; Lt. Gov. W. J. Dodd of Louisiana; Forrest McIntyre, executive secretary of Gov. Roy J. Turner of Oklahoma; Bernard R. Stone, Nebraska director of insurance.

Accompanying Smith will be Tyre W. Burton, counsel for the Missouri Public Service commission, and James C. Kirkpatrick, the governor's press secretary. They leave late today for St. Louis.

Representatives of the striking brotherhoods and Guy A. Thompson, Missouri Pacific trustee, also have promised to attend. The meeting opens at 10 a. m. at the Jefferson hotel.

Agree on Huge Sum to go to Waterways

Bill Calling For $664,178,190 is A Record Breaker

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5—(AP)—House and Senate conferees finally have agreed on a multi-million dollar waterways appropriation bill for the fiscal year that began last July 1.

The bill, carrying a total appropriation of $664,178,190 for civil functions of the Army, includes $634,920,090 for flood control and rivers and harbors projects in many of the 48 states.

Congress usually completes work on such bills late in June or early in July. One-fourth of the first year covered by the measure already is gone.

This year conferees wrangled for four months before compromising differences in the bill as it passed the House and the Senate.

Despite the delay, however, there has been little if any interruption on the various projects under construction. From time to time Congress has authorized Army engineers to proceed with projects already underway.

Breaks Record
The bill is a record breaker. Last year Congress appropriated $648,575,666.

This year President Truman recommended $772,458,220. The House allowed only $593,292,270, achieving the cut chiefly by means of a 15 per cent overall reduction which it said would be offset by a decline in construction costs.

The Senate, however, upped the total by $158,149,420, making it $751,440,000.

The House declined to accept the Senate increases and on June 1 sent the bill to conference.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the House Appropriations Committee said he didn't want to approve any appropriations to start new costly works.

A month ago he and Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.) Senate committee chairman, placed lists in the Congressional record showing agreements had been reached on all but 19 items. One by one these items were agreed upon, the last one late yesterday.

The bill includes $197,489,690 for rivers and harbors projects, $437,430,400 for flood control works.

One of the big items is $67,000,000 for flood control on the lower Mississippi river and its tributaries.

Xmas Decorations Solicitation Starts

The urgency of prompt solicitation of all prospects on the Christmas Decoration fund was stressed by Cline Cain at the Decoration Committee meeting Tuesday night at the Chamber of Commerce offices.

The committee members discussed and approved suggested Christmas decorations for Sedalia, but the amount of money raised thus far is a long way from the minimum budget necessary to erect adequate decorations. The committee is agreed that if the amount raised is not adequate to create a pleasing set of decorations that the project will have to be abandoned. Cain said, however, "If the remaining contributions, make as substantial contributions as those already solicited, the decorations will be the best Sedalia has had in years, both as to the amount of spruce used, and as to the number of both lighted, and decorative streamers."

The committee members are: John Hies, M. G. Goodrich, Glenn Lewis and Paul Hedderich.

Teen Town of Negroes to Receive Aid From The Chest

The Negro Teen Town, which is located at 315 North Osage avenue, will this year receive $800.00 from the Community Chest Drive. It was opened eight months ago and has grown to play a great part in the lives of the Negro young people.

The income has depended largely on donations, dues and refreshments and from this they have managed to pay the rent on the building, fuel and utility bills, do minor repairs on the building which was in very bad condition, paint the walls and floor. Pieces of furniture were donated to the club. From this also they bought material for a ping pong table, and snack bar and also paid for the labor. They have several table games, improvised tables out of barrels and also paid drayage for a piano and stove.

Open Three Nights Week

The club is open three nights a week and is available one night of the week for any school sponsored activity. The activities include singing, dancing, table games of various kinds, ping pong, dart games and a reading corner which is very popular. During the summer a formal party was sponsored by the Council and also several out-door activities.

The club is striving to furnish the Negro youth this community planned recreation under good clean wholesome surroundings and with the money from the Community Chest Fund plan to pay the expenses of the club, do more repair work, add to the equipment with such things as a radio, record player, pool table, subscribe to good magazines, buy more table games, boxing gloves and have a paid full time director. Mrs. C. H. Gooch has been serving as full time director without pay.

Membership is by card only and rules and regulations are strictly adhered to. Parents of the children serve as chaperones.

Chest Fund Kickoff Breakfast at 8 a. m. On Next Monday

The Community Chest Breakfast will be held Monday morning at 8:00 o'clock at the Bothwell hotel instead of 7:30 o'clock as was previously planned, according to Jack Cunningham, general chairman of the drive.

This will be the big Kick-off, breakfast to start the nine day drive from October 10 to 19 and all team captains are expected to be on hand to receive their instructions. All members of the teams are also urged to attend the breakfast where they will be given information on the drive.

Reservations for the breakfast must be made by Friday evening by calling either the team captain or the Chamber of Commerce.

Quarterback Club To Meet Thursday Nite

Ohio State And SMU Games To Be Shown By Bus Entsminger

The Sedalia Quarterback club will enjoy a real treat Thursday night at their meeting to be held in the Ambassador Room of the Bothwell hotel. Two motion pictures of the Ohio State and the Southern Methodist games with Missouri are to be shown with Bus Entsminger, former M. U. quarterback explaining the various plays.

John Van Dyne, president of the local organization, has requested all members to invite a guest to the Thursday night meeting. Members are especially urged to have their sons at the meeting if possible. The Smith-Cotton high school Tigers will be guest of the organization this week.

Have Forty-Five Members

At the present time there are 45 members of the Sedalia Quarterback Club and it is a desire of President Van Dyne to increase this membership to at least 90.

Funds obtained through membership are used to assist worthy boys with football ability to get an education at the University of Missouri. At the present time, three Sedalia boys are receiving an education at the University through this means.

Entsminger, who was one of the most outstanding quarterbacks of the University is still at the university and well informed on football. His talk will be of much interest and his explanations of various football players will be such every football fan will enjoy them.

Those who anticipate attending are requested to contact the Bothwell hotel and make reservations for the dinner which will start at 6:30 o'clock. If it is impossible to make an early reservation, arrangements are being made to take care of any of those members who do not have reservations.

Combine as an Automatic Disrober

NAVOO, Ill., Oct. 5—(AP)—Most everything being automatic these days it's not surprising that farmer Leon Edwards recently discovered—to his embarrassment—an automatic disrober.

He was operating a combine and stepped on the power takeoff, snagging his clothes.

When he picked himself off the ground, unhurt, he was wearing only a shirt collar, a wrist band from his coat and a shoulder strap from his undershirt.

Philip Murray, president of the steelworkers, is standing pat on his demand that industry pay all the costs of a pension and welfare program. Industry is standing pat, too. It will pay up to 10 cents an hour—but insists workers chip in a few cents an hour, too.

There are no negotiating sessions in sight. The government is keeping hands off for the present.

Keep More at Home

That doesn't mean the government isn't concerned. Secretary of commerce Charles Sawyer says he's considering imposing export controls on steel. That would keep more steel in America, prolonging employment in many industries in case the strike isn't ended soon.

Almost as Sawyer was talking, Westinghouse placed a number of home appliances on an allocation basis to distributors and dealers. These include large model refrigerators, electric ranges, washing machines, clothes driers, vacuum cleaners, water heaters and fans.

Repercussions of the steel walk-out are coming from Detroit. For the most part, auto companies have enough steel on hand to make autos for a month. However, 8,000 employees of Packard Motor Car company will be idled tomorrow and Friday. Packard wants to survey the situation and

Step To End Coal Strike

Mediator Calls For Meeting; May Cut Exports On Steel

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 5—(AP)—The federal government took steps today to halt the coal strike but withheld action in the steel shut-down.

U. S. Mediation Chief Cyrus S. Ching called John L. Lewis and bituminous operators to a Friday meeting in Washington in an effort to end the three-week mine walkout.

The situation, Ching said, is at the place "where it is approaching a crisis" that requires intervention of his office. He added:

"Although there is a lot of coal at some points, even today some people are affected by the coal shutdown and the longer it goes the worse it gets."

High Fashion Beauty Is Nothing But ... Skin And Bones!

That's the Word Alicia Hart Gets From a High Fashion Photographer

Imitating the lithe, snake-hipped look is a danger to the health of American women, warns fashion photographer George Hurrell. A comfortable 190 pounds himself, Mr. Hurrell poses these high-fashion models (above) whose thin figures, he believes, fall short of most men's feminine ideal.

By Alicia Hart
NEA Staff Writer

The ideal American woman is roundly curved and bouncy with health.

Any girl who sacrifices those attributes to look like the flat-chested, snake-hipped fashion models whose figures influence this country's styles, gets a sharp rap from George Hurrell, who has seen plenty of them.

Warns this famed photographer before whose camera the nation's top fashion models pass: Their influence is dangerous to the health of the female population.

By trying to look like "clothes horse" models, Hurrell says American girls are not only ruining their own health but that of future generations, too.

"In their attempt to keep their figures down to model measurements," he says, "our girls go on starvation diets, submit to rigid corseting, even avoid having children."

Insisting that no woman can keep a fashion figure without starving herself, the celebrated photographer, who himself boasts a well-rounded 190 pounds, cites the fashion models with whom he works as typical examples.

"Some of the glamor gals I photograph are so thin they're unhealthy. They don't eat. They are high strung and nervous like race horses."

"When beautiful girls come to New York from other sections of the country," he continues, "they are healthy. But when the fashion business makes models of them, they have to train down, down, down. They have to be 'shadows' in order to wear high-fashion clothes and pose for high style photographs."

Warning that "shadows" are not the American male's idea of beauty, Hurrell reminds girls that they'd be smarter to take on some substance.

"The way things are going," he protests, "a guy who wants to look at the female form must go to a burlesque show or museum, unless he has some dusty old girly-girly pictures which he can thumb through."

What's Mr. Hurrell's answer to this problem? He believes that girls would be happier and look better, if they would let themselves go past the lettuce leaf and the slice of pineapple. Furthermore, he thinks that all women should take action against an artificial standard of female beauty. Cheering women into action, this spearhead of the revolt says: "The girls were able to get the votes, I don't see why they can't get together, assert their freedom and become real women; not imitations of a few undernourished models."

St. Joseph Checks May Be Forgeries

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 5—(P)—Theft of 104 checks from a St. Joseph manufacturing company has led Prosecuting Attorney O. R. Newcomer to issue a warning that there may be scores of forgeries.

By noon at least a dozen had been reported. In each case the amount was $66 plus some odd pennies.

The checks were stolen from the Schmidt Concrete Products company. They were taken from the back pages of four books. The theft was not known until the forgeries started to appear. Newcomer said he feared the total amount might reach $3,000. In some cases two men worked together, posing as employees of the company, to cash the checks.

Cozy Pajama And Robe Outfit Is Toddlers' Choice for Sleep

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Kids who sit hypnotized by television can now watch in warmth and comfort thanks to cozy "at home" duds for fall and winter.

Designed with that idea in view are toddlers' robes of pretty broadcloth, quilted inside and out. Although details are stylized—contrast piping and ruffled collars—these robes launder as easily as rompers.

Two-piece sleepers of cotton flannel-ette print bring along an extra pair of pants for little pad-about. The shirt that tucks in is saucily ruffled at neckline and pocket.—By EPSIE KINARD, NEA Fashion Editor.

Picnic Dinner For 4-H Club

The Pleasant Green 4-H club met at the Liberty park for an all day meeting September 25. A picnic dinner was enjoyed by all at the noon hour.

The project books were all completed and turned in to the office. Plans were made to reorganize in October.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Wayne Templeton, the third Wednesday in October at 8:00 o'clock.

Appreciate Getting Democrat to Son

The Democrat has received a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Paul Faulconer, of LaMonte, route 2 in which they expressed their appreciation for sending the Democrat to their son, Paul, Jr., who is a Sea Bee in Adak, Alaska.

The Faulconers wrote: "We have received a letter from Paul saying he certainly appreciates the paper from home far more than he can say. While he receives the paper in bunches, four or five at a time, he doesn't mind a bit and it is certainly worth twice the subscription price for him to be able to enjoy the news from around Sedalia. It only took about three weeks for him to receive the first three copies."

CHURCH NEWS

Twenty-four women from St. Paul's Lutheran church attended the meeting held at the Trinity Lutheran church of Cole Camp on September 28 for the purpose of organizing the Sedalia Zone of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League.

The Rev. H. J. Gerike conducted the opening devotion. The afternoon meeting was called to order by Mrs. H. J. Gerike. Rev. W. F. Strickert had the opening devotion.

Mrs. R. Delventhal, first vice president of district, reported on the Lutheran Women's Missionary League.

Temporary officers were elected to serve until the spring rally. They are as follows: president, Mrs. H. J. Gerike, Trinity, Cole Camp; secretary, Mrs. W. F. Strickert, Sedalia; treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Schauer, St. John's Cole Camp; pastoral advisor, Rev. H. J. Gerike.

Four charter societies organized this league: Trinity, Cole Camp; St. John's Cole Camp; Young Married Ladies, Sedalia and Ladies Aid of Sedalia.

A nominating committee was appointed to present candidates for officers at the spring rally which will be held at St. John's, Cole Camp.

A constitutional committee was

Vienna Power Rates Discussed

VIENNA—(AP)—A group of United States power experts are in Vienna to make a study of Austrian electric power rates.

Members of the power mission include Nevin E. Funk, an ex-Vice President of the Philadelphia Electric Co.; Gabriel G. Wessenhauer, director of power, Tennessee Valley Authority; Harry I. Miller, manager, rate research department, Wisconsin Public Service Co.; John Montgomery, State Department, Recorder; and Lt. Col. S. Chittick, escort officer.

Connecticut Still Cuts Lumber

WINSTED, Conn. — (AP) — Far from being a "lost art," lumbering still is carried on in this northwestern Connecticut area.

For the most part, however, it is done on a small business basis. Small crews go into the woods, cut the trees and haul the logs to nearby sawmills. In some instances this "native lumber" is sold in the rough state just as it comes from the saw.

Hemlock and pine comprise most of the supply, although occasionally a little oak is available.

Because You—Our Customers—Have Shown an Overwhelming Thursday Night Shopping Preference, Our Stores Will Be

OPEN THURSDAY NIGHTS Until 9:00 O'clock

At our stores there is only one person we try to satisfy—and that person is you—our customer. And there is only one person that sets the policy of our stores—and, again, that person is you—our customer.

That is the only reason why our stores will continue to be open Thursday night until nine o'clock, for by your continued Thursday night shopping throughout the sixty day trial period, and by your stated preference for a middle-of-the-week shopping night with its many advantages, you have set the present and immediate future policy for our stores.

Should you demonstrate at some future date that some other night during the week is the night on which you would prefer to do your shopping, then you may be sure that your wishes will set the pattern of our operation.

The stores listed below, and some not listed, will be open each Thursday evening until 9:00 o'clock for your shopping convenience.

Wins For Yankees

gloved hand catch of the throw. Jorgensen swung at Reynolds's first pitch and sent an easy bouncer to Coleman who threw him out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Third Inning Yankees

Coleman looked at a third strike that nipped the outside corner to become Newcombe's fourth strikeout victim. Reynolds sent a high fly that fell for a double near the left field bend. Hermanski, playing far over to left, couldn't quite catch up with it after a long run. Rizzuto popped to Robinson behind first base with Reynolds staying glued to second. Reese waving everybody away, took care of Henrich's high pop a few feet to the left of the mound.

Fourth Inning Dodgers

Swinging at a three and two pitch, Snider raised a high foul that Johnson caught near the third base field boxes. Robinson, a one bouncer to Johnson who threw across to Henrich for an easy out. Mapes ran almost behind second base to make a nice catch of Hermanski's looping fly.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Fourth Inning Yankees

Reese gobbled up Berra's slow bouncer near second base and threw him out at first. DiMaggio raised a high pop to Robinson who made the catch without hardly moving from his tracks. Lindell hit Newcombe's first pitch to Snider in dead center.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Fifth Inning Dodgers

Furillo was safe at first when his routine roller skipped through Coleman's legs into right field for an error. Hodges dropped a sacrifice bunt down the third base line and was out, Johnson to Henrich. Reynolds whipped two strikes over on Campanella, then walked him with the next four pitches. Newcombe went down swinging, missing a fast ball over the heart of the plate. Reese bounced to Johnson who stepped on third forcing Furillo for the third out.

No runs, no hits, one error, two left.

Fifth Inning Yankees

Johnson struck out on three pitches. He checked his swing on the last strike but was called out anyway as Newcombe's fast curve cut the outside corner. Mapes fouled off four pitches, then missed a fast pitch across his knees for the third strike. Coleman also struck out, missing a "slider" by about six inches. It marked the second time that Newcombe had retired the side on strikes.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Sixth Inning Dodgers

Jorgensen drilled a low line foul drive into the right field stands that narrowly missed being a home run. Then coaxed four straight called balls for a walk. Snider attempting to bunt, missed Reynolds' first pitch, then swung at and missed the next two offerings to go down swinging for the second time. DiMaggio made a nice over the shoulder running catch of Robinson's sizzling liner to left-center and Jorgensen, who had rounded second, barely returned to first, coming in just ahead of Rizzuto's relay. Reynolds needed only three pitches to strike out Hermanski who went down swinging.

Sixth Inning Yankees

Reynolds rammed a single through the hole between third and short for his second straight hit. Reynolds was nearly caught off first base in a clever pickoff attempt. Hodges stayed off the bag and Robinson sneaked in behind the runner to take Campanella's throw but Reynolds, heeding a warning by first base coach Dickey, just scrambled back in time. Rizzuto rapped into a forced play, Jorgensen to Robinson forcing Reynolds at second. Robinson's relay to first pulled Hodges off the bag and Rizzuto was safe. No error. Snider, playing over toward right, galloped back to dead center to haul in Henrich's towering fly. Berra swung half heartedly at a low outside curve ball to become Newcombe's eighth strikeout victim.

Seventh Inning Dodgers

Furillo popped up Reynolds' first pitch to Henrich about 15 feet off first base. Hodges looked at a third strike, a blazing fast ball just above his knees. Reynolds hooked a curve over the outside corner to make the napping Campanella the sixth strikeout victim.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Seventh Inning Yankees

The entire infield converged around DiMaggio's high pop up to the mound and just when it appeared that the ball might drop to the ground untouched, Robinson grabbed it for the put-out. Lindell watched a fast ball cut through for a third strike. Jorgensen raced to his left to make a gloved hand stop of Johnson's sharp grounder and whipped him out at first.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Eighth Inning Dodgers

Newcombe watched a slow curve break over the outside corner for a third strike. Reese whistled a single past Reynolds into center field. It was only the second hit off Reynolds. The official paid attendance was announced as 66,224. Reese stole second, sliding in safely under Berra's high throw. Jorgensen swung and missed a high fast pitch for the third strike. Snider struck out for the third time missing a fast pitch down the middle. It was Reynolds' ninth strikeout to match Newcombe's total.

Eighth Inning Yankees

Mapes struck out, missing a changer for the third strike. Coleman slammed an outside pitch to the right field corner for a two base hit Reynolds was called out on strikes. Newcombe caught him looking at a sharp breaking curve. Rizzuto filed to Snider who moved back a half dozen steps to make the catch.

Ninth Inning Dodgers

Robinson rolled out to Rizzuto who threw to first. Hermanski swung at Reynolds' first pitch and popped to Rizzuto on the edge of the infield grass. Furillo sent a high fly to Mapes in short right.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Ninth Inning Yankees

Henrich ignored two called balls, then connected with an inside fast ball and sailed it on a line into the lower right field stands for a home run to win the game for the Yankees, 1-0.

One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

Inquiry Open Thursday on Navy Morale

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5—(AP)—

A House committee advised the Navy today to fire Cedric Worth, the penman whose views on the Air Force B-36 bomber program set off a Congressional inquiry. The Navy then announced Worth already had quit.

He was the first casualty of the latest maneuvering in a bitter Navy-Air Force row that has brought circulation of anonymous memoranda and surreptitious slipping of documents to news reporters.

At least two more investigations are on the way which may bring others.

Worth is the man who admitted writing an unsigned memorandum, circulated in Congress last summer, which criticized the B-36 program he was then civilian assistant to Undersecretary of the Navy Dan Kimball.

Worth was suspended in August. The Navy announced today that he resigned Aug. 30.

Shortly before the Navy announcement, the House Armed Services committee had approved a report saying Worth should be permanently discharged from Navy employment.

Inquiry Start Thursday

The committee announced it will open tomorrow an inquiry into reports that Navy morale has sunk to a low point as a result of the way the law unifying the armed services has been administered.

May Begin Payoff By Christmas

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5—(P)—

The Veterans Administration may start paying the $2,800,000,000 GI insurance dividend before Christmas—at the rate of a million checks a week.

As soon as the bulk of those payments is out of the way the agency will get to work on a second special dividend, the size of which has not yet been determined.

Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr., has ordered completion of the first dividend payment, to some 16,000,000 World War II veterans, by next June 30 if possible.

The VA insurance section had expected to start the payments in January, on a 200,000-checks-a-day basis. But a spokesman told a reporter:

"There is a possibility that we might start them before the first of the year.

"We will go just as fast as we can, and if we can beat the January deadline we will."

About 12,000,000 veterans have applied for the dividend since application blanks became available Aug. 29.

Wants Land 'Deeded to Lord'

EVING SHADE, Ark., Oct. 5—

An Iowa woman has filed suit at Hardy, Ark., seeking to recover 160 acres of land once deeded "To the Lord."

She is Mrs. C. H. Powell, of Jefferson, Ia., whose husband, Clarence, attracted wide attention in February, 1926, by filing a document deeding the land in northern Sharp county to "the Lord Jesus Christ."

However, when taxes on the land were not paid, it was sold by the state and since acquired by Levi Smith of Hardy. Mrs. Powell filed suit in chancery court against Smith, charging that her husband was not capable of managing his affairs when he deeded the property to the Lord.

Mrs. Powell said her husband has been an inmate of the Iowa state hospital at Cherokee, Ia., since 1926, the year he filed the unusual deed.

Organ Music At Crowning

Organ music will be an added feature Thursday night at the Fox theatre when lovely Sedalia girls compete for the honor of queen candidate from Sedalia to the American Royal which will be held soon in Kansas City.

At the organ will be Miss Dorothy Ann Reed. Arrangements have been completed by Joe Rudick, manager of the theatre to have a Baldwin electronic organ on the stage for Miss Reed.

A glamorous setting has been provided as a background for the attractive young women contestants.

adjust its working schedule to the supply of steel on hand. There's not a great deal of worrying over the lack of coal although the UMW walkout of soft coal miners is now in its 17th day. There's still enough coal above ground to keep most of industry humming at least another month.

Reports of sporadic violence come from the soft coal fields daily. The latest flareup was in Virginia last night. A few arrests were made.

Coal in Trucks Dumped

In Pennsylvania a coal tippie—coal preparation structure—was damaged by an explosion yesterday at the C. V. Fink and Son mine near Clearfield. And several trucks hauling non-union coal were dumped along roadways near Hollidaysburg, Pa. Three men were arrested. Two pickets were fined in the stoning of non-union coal truck drivers in Cambria county, Pa.

All of the violence stems from efforts of a few hundred non-union coal operators to keep their mines running.

UMW president John L. Lewis is seeking a new contract to replace the one which ran out last June 30. He hasn't disclosed his demands. But there's little question he wants the royalty fund payments increased, possibly increasing them to 30 cents a ton.

And Lewis had indicated he wants an hour knocked off the present eight-hour day without a pay loss.

A meeting between the UMW and the Southern Coal producers association ended on an optimistic note at Bluefield, W. Va. yesterday. There were reports the operators had made some sort of an offer. It couldn't be confirmed, but President Joseph E. Moody declared he believed the negotiations have "turned the corner."

There was speculation in some quarters Lewis and Murray might end their long standing feud in order to get the twin strikes settled. Neither commented but a source very close to Murray declared:

"That's a laugh!"

Gideons to Arrive Here On Friday

o'clock and will continue until noon, at which time a lunch will be served.

The afternoon meeting will be from 1:15 to 5:00 o'clock with the election of state officers for the coming year to be held at 3:00 o'clock.

Fellowship Dinner

The Fellowship dinner will be held at 6:30 o'clock at the First Methodist church, with the principal address to be given by Reamer Loomis, of Chicago, who was formerly president of Missouri. His topic will be "Trophy of God's Grace."

The new officers will be installed at 9:30 o'clock at the street meeting to be held at Third street and Ohio avenue.

Sunday morning the opening session will be a prayer fellowship, after which the men will receive their assignments to the various churches. There will be over 60 assignments for churches in Sedalia and surrounding communities.

The fellowship dinner will be served at 1:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon and will conclude the convention.

All sessions of the Missouri Gideon Auxiliary will be held at the Fifth Street Methodist church, Fifth street and Osage avenue. The business session will be held at 10:00 o'clock Saturday morning with the luncheon at noon of that day.

Prof. Davis to Supervise Test

Full-scale tests for a combustion study for the U. S. air force will be started at the Industrial Research Institute of the University of Denver this month, according to Prof. Dent C. Davis, project supervisor. Prof. Davis is a former Sedalia and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Davis, 422 South Quincy avenue.

The project, one of several being conducted for government agencies by the institute, will investigate combustion phenomena important to jet propulsion devices. Study results also may apply to industrial furnaces, Davis said.

James Blackledge, Carl A. Lorenzen and William R. Ketterman are assisting Davis.

Benefit Show For Chest Fund

A Community Chest benefit morning show will be held at the Liberty Theatre, 10:00 o'clock Saturday morning, and all funds derived from free-will offerings will be contributed to the 1949 Community Chest campaign through the schools division.

The Liberty theatre is donating its services and facilities, and A. Hugh Jones, projectionist, will contribute his services to the showing of the picture. Film for the benefit show has been made possible through the courtesy of the Twentieth-Century-Fox Film Corporation and will consist of "Little Old New York," starring Alice Faye, Fred McMurray and Richard Greene, and cartoons.

Announcements are being made throughout the school system by members of the Smith-Cotton speech classes, and uniformed Boy Scouts will assist in the free-will door offering. The performance is not restricted to students and it is hoped that many adults will attend the morning Community Chest Benefit show, since every penny received in the free-will door offering will be contributed to the Chest campaign.

Farm Bill Is Temporarily On The Shelf

Lucas Declares A Farm Bill Will Be Had This Session

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(AP)—A Senate split wide open on the question of how to support crop prices last night ended two days of bitter battling by temporarily shelving a long-range farm bill. The vote was 41 to 29.

The action came on motion of Senator Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture, after his flexible price prop bill had been rewritten into a high-support measure by Vice President Barkley's action in breaking a tie vote.

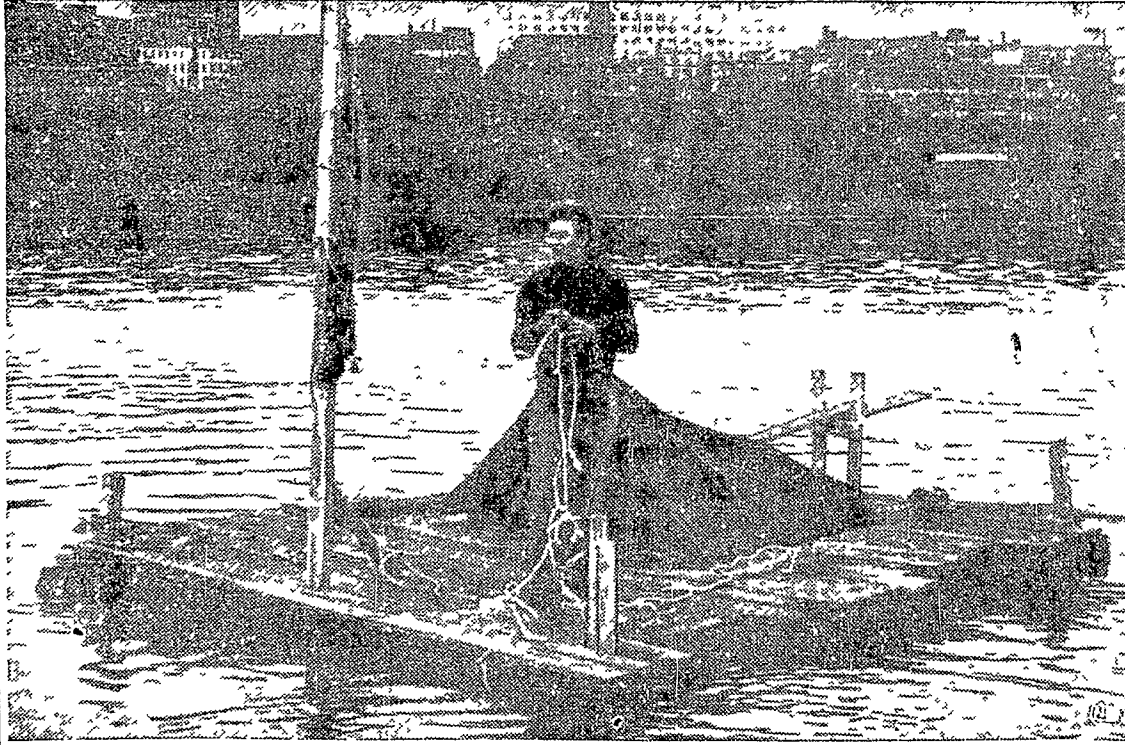

Anderson's motion to send the bill back to the agriculture committee for 48 hours was adopted. He promised efforts to compromise.

Barkley Votes To Break Tie
Sen. Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, said the measure will be taken up again as soon as the committee returns it to the Senate.

"Furthermore," Lucas said, "we're going to get a farm bill this session no matter how long we stay here."

Barkley went against Anderson and Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leaders, to make the vote 38 to 37 for adoption of an amendment by Senators Russell (D-Ga) and Young (R-ND) setting up prices props at 90 per cent of parity on major crops—cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco, rice and peanuts.

(Parity is a price level calculation.)

HAVING A RAFT OF FUN—Nineteen-year-old Mark Strider sets out from Dayton, Ky., bound for New Orleans, La., on a home-made raft. The modern Huck Finn doesn't even have a map to show him the way, but says, "Somebody told me it's 1236 miles to New Orleans, and I just like to travel."

ed to give farmers the same return from their crops, in relation to things they buy, that they had in a past period favorable to them.

These supports would go into effect when farmers voted for acreage controls and, in some cases, marketing quotas.

Anderson, supported by Senator Aiken (R-Vt) and others, had proposed a sliding scale of supports, from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

Anderson and Aiken have argued that a 90 per cent price guarantee, keeping food prices high, may one day cause consumers to rebel and possibly throw out the whole price support program.

Backers of the high-support legislation contend that any serious sag in farm prices could set off a depression affecting the whole economy.

Called For Vote

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, suggested that a vote on the recommitment motion be put off until tomorrow. But Senator Anderson (D-NM), who made the motion, declared, "The time to vote is now."

Senator Aiken (R-Vt) called the 90 per cent parity amendment "an effort by cotton and wheat producing states to get both feet in the trough and shove every other producer out."

committal motion, Senator Ecton (R-Mont), a big grin on his face, said he and other senators who backed the 90 per cent of parity amendment wanted Vice President Barkley to know they appreciated his "discernment and knowledge" in casting the tie-breaking vote which earlier brought adoption of the amendment.

Lucas, against the amendment, snapped he was glad to know that he said it was the first nice thing he ever had heard Ecton say about a Democrat.

"And he (Barkley) is one of the greatest Democrats in the country," Lucas added. Barkley went against the administration in his first tie-breaking vote on a major issue. That was when, after the Senate had

France To Control Campers
PARIS—(AP)—Camping is becoming so popular in France that the Ministry of Interior is now studying a code to control the sport.

The necessity for some measure of control over campers has been emphasized, in the view of the authorities, by recent big forest fires in southwestern France which cost nearly a hundred lives and great damage to property. At least some of these fires are believed to have been started by careless campers.

Regulations are being considered which may require every French camper to belong to a club which will control the activities of its members in the same way as other sporting clubs. Towns and villages may be required to set aside definite camping grounds with elementary sanitary facilities.

rejected the Russell-Young amendment by 37 to 38, a motion came up to reconsider it.

This time there was a deadlock, 37 to 37. Although majority leader Lucas was fighting tooth and nail for President Truman's principle of "flexible" supports, Barkley voted for the reconsideration.

That turned the tie. The Senate, voting again on the Russell-Young amendment, reversed itself and approved it by a shouting voice vote. Lucas, Anderson and Aiken stormed at their colleagues vainly.

Shape of the Earth Being Surveyed From a Rock In a Kansas Pasture

ROBINSON'S ROCK: From the dot in a Kansas field, a new determination of the earth's exact size.

By NEA Service
LUCAS, Kas.—(NEA)—An unimposing rock that rises about six inches above the surface of Frank Robinson's pasture 12 miles northwest of here is the center of a project as big as the world itself. Affixed to the rock is a small bronze plaque. On the plaque is a tiny triangle. Inside the triangle is a dot. And that dot is being used by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey to measure the size and shape of the earth.

The current project is the second phase of the job. Last year, astronomical calculations were made by geodetic survey officials. This year they are making gravity checks, centering around the rock on Robinson's farm. The scientists will tie the two studies together and get a new determination of the earth's exact size.

Robinson's rock has been used before. For about 50 years, it has been the basis of every triangle drawn by surveyors over the whole United States. All buildings surveyed, from the White House to the barn on Old MacDonald's farm, are down on charts as being a certain distance from the rock.

When the marker was first put in place in 1891, it was just one of many points of reference established across the nation. But it soon became the principal one, when Geodetic Survey officials decided it was the most nearly accurate of them all.

A plumb line at this point, they found, was least likely to be affected by forces other than gravity. More than any of the others, it would show the earth's natural gravity. Its accuracy was attributed to its location—on a barren hilltop, without great mountain ranges or bodies of water or land masses nearby to deflect the plumb line.

It became virtually the geodetic center of the nation. And, in 1913, the rock extended its importance beyond the borders of the United States. Canada and Mexico accorded its recognition as the basis of their surveys, too. So, for all intents and purposes, it became the geodetic center of the whole North American continent.

Gradually, it extended its sphere of geodetic influence around the world. More and more nations adopted it as the point of reference for surveys, until now a maze of triangles, linking most of the earth's surface, are based on the dot in the triangle on the plaque on the rock on the farm in Kansas.

Now a must for tourists, it has gradually been chipped away by souvenir-hunters and the onslaught of plans winters. But it hasn't been moved, and the rock has now tackled its biggest job as scientists use it to measure the size of the world.

Legislation To Extend SS For More Workers

Will Treble Payroll Taxes In 20-Years To Finance Program

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(P)—Legislation extending social security to 11,000,000 more workers won its first test Tuesday as the House, against Republican protests of "gag rule," voted 189 to 135 to bar any amendment to the bill.

Then, although procedures permit four days of debate, a bipartisan drive began for a final vote by tomorrow night. Speaker Rayburn said passage is certain. Some members voiced hope the bill might soften labor's demands for special pension plans financed wholly by employers. In the federal insurance program the costs are shared equally by workers and their employers.

Would Boost Benefits
Besides expanding old age and survivors insurance coverage, the administration bill would boost benefits by 70 to 80 per cent, create new disability insurance, and treble payroll taxes in the next 20 years, to finance the expanded program.

House Republicans, after a morning mass meeting, bitterly fought what they called a "gag" outlawing amendments. Most of them said they want social security expansion, but argued that some of the provisions of the measure before the House are dangerous.

Rep. Curtis (R-Neb) shouted that the new disability insurance points toward a "welfare state." Rep. Madden (D-Ind) replied that such argument were made when the first social security act was passed in 1935.

Offer Substitute Bill
The Republicans offered a substitute bill. It resembles the administration measure in many respects, but proposes a slower boost in taxes and would delete the proposed new insurance payments for workers who become totally and permanently disabled. They argued that the public assistance program can care for the disabled.

Rep. Kean (R-NJ), author of the GOP bill, said it would put 1,300,000 more persons under old age and survivors insurance than the administration measure, and ultimately would cost $1,250,000,000 less annually.

Onibus Appropriation Bill

Will Give Better Perspective

By Bruce Blossat

Next year Congress will make an important advance in its handling of appropriations covering regular government expenses. Funds for all major activities will be lumped together in one omnibus bill.

This reform was assured recently when Sen. Harry Byrd, Virginia Democrat, finally won the Senate over to the idea after four years of trying. Rep. Clarence Cannon of Missouri, chairman of the House appropriations committee, already had announced that his group would put together a single appropriation measure in 1950.

Up to now money for the various regular departments and agencies has been voted in a long series of separate bundles. Debate and action on the full list always has consumed many days' time in both houses. This year the Senate has not yet completed passage of all appropriations.

But there is far more than time involved in this change. Handling government funds on a piecemeal basis simply doesn't work well in these days of huge expenditures. Congress never gets the panoramic view it needs if it is to keep outlay and revenue intake in balance.

For example, many times in recent years lawmakers charged with preparing tax legislation have put off action for months and months on the ground that until they knew how much the government would probably spend they could not fairly decide whether an increase or reduction in levies was justified.

Furthermore, government budget making ought to be a well-knit process all the way from the budget bureau's basic estimates to the final congressional vote. A budget is a thing of many parts, but they are related parts. What good does it do to scrimp and save in one department if funds for another agency are to be doled out with careless abandon?

Money for any particular purpose ought to be considered in relation to genuine need, to the amount of revenue expected at existing tax rates, and to the competing requirements of other activities.

Too often our lawmakers have blithely voted for particular projects as if there were no others bidding for government funds. But even those who wanted a fuller picture contended they could not get it under present congressional practice.

The Byrd-Cannon plan is no cure-all for our budget-making troubles. More reforms are needed. Congress still must rely too heavily on the word of the government agencies themselves as to the necessity of expenditures. It needs its own well-trained staff of budget investigators; present assistance is inadequate. And the administration, for its part, ought to present its budget to Congress in a far more simplified form than is now the case.

But the plan is welcome as an opening wedge in a field too long neglected.

Is He Awake Yet?

The new session of the United Nations General Assembly in New York got under way without the verbal storms that have come to be viewed as part of the act.

The reason was not hard to discover. A news photographer scanning the troupe of UN delegates lit on what should have been the obvious answer to veteran observers: Foreign Minister Vishinsky of Russia was fast asleep.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Mutiny Threatens Lewis'

Autocratic Hold on Followers

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, October 5—Word inside labor circles is that John L. Lewis' dictatorial control over his United Mine Workers is the shakiest it has been since the 1933 depression year, when the union would have folded up but for the rescuing hand of Franklin Roosevelt—whom Lewis later repaid with hate.

There is growing dissension among rank-and-file miners, who were barely able to support their families during the recent three-day-week work schedule—much less maintain an all-out strike with empty larders and no pay checks.

And the fact that Lewis continues to draw his $50,000 a year, ride around in big limousines and put up at the best hotels while negotiating with the operators doesn't set well with the rank-and-filers.

The high esprit de corps and loyalty to the "Old Man" that marked former walkouts is missing this year. One reason is the large number of World War II vets in the UMW— independent young fellows who won't be pushed around by anybody, even John L. Lewis.

The strongest rank-and-file grumbling among the mine workers is over the dissipation of their pension and welfare fund. This was manifested when a Pennsylvania miner, G. H. Livengood, brought suit against Lewis for alleged mishandling and waste of the welfare fund.

Livengood's action in itself is a telltale barometer of changing sentiment among the miners. For, in the past, no mere miner would have dared challenge Lewis' one-man rule. He and his family would have been ridden out of town by Lewis' strong-arm men.

Sour Southern Miners

Several UMW district leaders in the south have actually talked privately of breaking away to organize a separate union of southern miners—if Livengood's charges of wasting the welfare fund are upheld in court. Also, many southern miners are sore because Lewis makes a practice of settling with northern operators first, thus getting northern miners back to work ahead of southern miners. In addition, southern miners are weary of being broke by Lewis' annual strikes.

Just once, they would like to see him wangle a wage increase without a walkout.

It was kept quiet, but miner delegations from western Kentucky and Nicholas county, West Virginia, braced Lewis' right-hand man, John Owens, in Bluefield, W. Va., the other day with a demand that the UMW treasury be opened up to help destitute mine families.

In a surly mood, leaders of the two groups told Owens that they were broke and their families hungry.

All this is why the coal operators, for once, are not pressing for a quick settlement, and also why Lewis abruptly terminated his strike in the anthracite and western coal fields.

Capital News Capsules

Alaskan Defenses—Most vulnerable link in our Alaskan defenses is housing. Right in the heart of a great timberland, the army engineers haven't been able to build enough housing to accommodate U. S. troops. Living quarters are so short that the army and air force can't even keep a minimum peacetime force in Alaska. Even today, housing space is urgently needed for 12,543 men and 6,973 dependents. . . . One trouble: It's costing the army engineers half as much again to construct houses and barracks as it would cost private builders.

Less Air Joy-riding—Publicity over free airplane rides has turned out to be a boon to the commercial airlines. Several government officials had planned to take air force planes to the Kansas City shindig honoring Democratic chairman Bill Boyle. But, after all the hullabaloo over free rides, not a single air force plane showed up. Some Democrats grumbled that "Drew Pearson is costing us a lot of money."

More Russian Agents—The Justice department is getting ready to tighten up on Amtorg, the Russian government trade agency in the USA. Evidence has developed that at least half a dozen Amtorg agents have been spying in the United States. So the Russian government will be asked to register all its members. The state department may block the move, however, on the grounds that it will make relations with the Russians even tougher.

Ban on Russian Mink—Russia finances most of her activities in this country—espionage and otherwise—by importing furs and selling them for dollars. To close this important source of revenue, U. S. central intelligence has been quietly urging that a tariff be slapped on imported furs. However, Uncle Sam's left hand doesn't seem to know what his right hand is doing, for the state department has been lobbying on the other side—against a high fur tariff.

Heyday For Lobbyists

After all the pre-election breast beating about lobbyists, it now looks as if Congress will have to wage a one-armed fight against the lobbyists—due to a road block by Nevada's alleged Democrat, Senator McCarran.

The Democrats' original plan was to launch a double-barreled Senate-House investigation of the lobbyists. But it is now almost certain that the Senate will be left out—despite the fact that a barrage against lobbyists was one of the main Democratic battle cries during the 1948 campaign. After all the snorting and shouting, however, lobbyists have actually increased under the Democrats.

One reason is that the Democrats haven't been able to start an investigation without tripping over McCarran. The senator from Nevada has calmly blocked every move to investigate lobbyists, unless he can name the lobbyists to be investigated.

The House finally got tired of dickering with McCarran and set up its own committee—though its funds have been tied up in the House administration committee by Congressman Thomas Stanlye, Virginia Democrat, considered a friend of lobbyists.

Mother Writes in For Advice

About Aiding a Shy Daughter

HE'S 17. Pretty, neat, nice figure. Boys like her and ask her for dates—but, writes her mother: "She doesn't mind double-dating with another couple she knows well, but when a boy calls her up and asks for a date by herself she becomes petrified. Most of the time she turns him down."

"Also when she talks to strangers she doesn't lift her eyes, but keeps her head down."

"If I knew she'd grow out of this I'd sit by and wait, but I know she is suffering as much as I, but won't admit it."

It's natural for a mother to want her daughter to have a good time and to worry if she seems so shy that she makes herself miserable.

Because it is always so easy for an older person to see how crippling such shyness is and yet how simple it should be to overcome it.

But it isn't a simple problem for a teen-ager to overcome. And I'm afraid the more a mother shows her concern over her problem, the more self-conscious the girl becomes.

Try Letting Her Alone

It should be worth a long-term try for the mother in this situation to adopt a strictly "hands off" policy.

If the mother doesn't seem to notice or care whether the daughter accepts dates or not and does not scold her for her diffidence with strangers, the daughter may gradually begin to lose some of her fear and tenseness.

Double-dating ought to help her, too. She can depend on the other girl to help her carry off the evening, until she has met all sorts of new situations, such as going to certain places to dance, etc., and knows what to expect. Then, perhaps, she won't be so fearful of striking out on her own.

If the girl doesn't gain in self-confidence during this "hands off" period the mother might feel it necessary to get the opinion of a qualified psychiatrist.

But oftentimes a teen-ager can work out her own problems—if she doesn't feel that her parents are agonizing all of her failures.

Local Measures Help to Cure

The Problem of Aging Joints

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Written for NEA Service

Osteoarthritis or hypertrophic arthritis really should not be called arthritis at all. It is really a mild degeneration or wearing out of some of the structures which go to make the joints. It is a sort of aging of the joints which shows up first in those joints which do the most work, like the knees, hips or fingers.

The exact cause or causes of this condition are not entirely understood. There may be an inherited factor, that is the cartilage and bone of people in some families may be particularly susceptible to early degeneration or osteoarthritis. Repeated injury also seems to promote the development of this condition. Poor posture, disturbances of blood circulation, and obesity are other conditions which contribute to the development of osteoarthritis.

Accompanied By Stiffness

The end joints of the fingers frequently become enlarged. This is often accompanied by a certain amount of stiffness and soreness, though this usually disappears after the joints have been loosened up. These enlargements are very common in later years and are called Heberden's nodes.

The treatment of degenerative changes in the joints includes general measures aimed at relieving the discomfort and improving the over-all physical condition. Local measures designed to relieve the involved joints and prevent or correct any difficulties which are present are also used. Occupational strains should be eliminated whenever possible and posture should be corrected.

Many people become unnecessarily alarmed when they are told that they have this condition because they are afraid that they may become seriously crippled. Osteoarthritis is always a mild condition.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked question in his column.

The Doctor Answers

My Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

QUESTION: Is there any special diet which can be user for an enlarged liver?

ANSWER: The liver may be enlarged in several different conditions, including heart disease, kidney disease, as well as diseases of the liver itself and other disorders. For these reasons there is no diet that can be suggested.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You are identifying yourself over the telephone to your husband's secretary.

WRONG WAY: Say, "This is Mary Jones. May I speak to my husband?"

RIGHT WAY: Say, "This is Mrs. Jones. May I speak to Mr. Jones, please?"

SITUATION: You are in a position where you feel you really should invite someone into your house, but you know the living room is not in order, being cluttered with children's toys, etc.

WRONG WAY: Don't invite the person in.

RIGHT WAY: Invite the person in, since it is better to be hospitable than to try to save yourself embarrassment by not having your house clean unless it is "ready for company."

"Well, for a wife whose husband never takes her anywhere, you certainly have to have a lot of new clothes, it seems to me!"

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART

Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Tod Duncan is unable to forget Liz Conover, even though he has married Jenny. And Jenny is not as happy as she should be. Tod took her first to live with his family, but there is quarrelling. Later Tod lives in a trailer camp while he finishes school. Jenny discovers who is to become a mother. Tod meets an old chum, Rick Morris, who unexpectedly mentions Liz Conover. Jenny tells Rick that Tod married her "on the rebound." Later Rick advises Tod to forget Liz. Next Tod's mother, who dislikes Jenny, calls Tod and asks him to come to see her—but not to bring Jenny.

XV

AFTER his first visit, Tod fell into the habit of going to see Ma and Harriet and Joe once a week. When he came back from one of those visits he was always upset and restless.

Jenny felt better physically now and made a special effort to overlook his moodiness. He was studying hard these days, with mid-term exams not too far away. Saturday nights they usually tried to have someone in, Rick and Nina to play bridge, and occasionally the Hansens from next door. Although the Hansens bored Tod.

Fred Hansen was in one of Tod's classes. He was a small bespectacled fellow with sandy hair and faded blue eyes. His wife Ruth was plump, vivacious and friendly. They always put their baby to bed in their own trailer when they came over, and every time Ruth was dummy she trotted over to see that it was all right. She was delighted when she learned Jenny was expecting, and went into all the details of her own pregnancy. Tod was disturbed and for a time he treated Jenny with anxious concern. Jenny laughed at him. And presently he got over it.

There were other urgent matters to be concerned about. The $500 they'd gotten for the summer cottage would last through December, but after that something would have to be done.

Then Ma phoned Tod one Saturday evening. Rick and Nina were there playing bridge when the man from the trailer camp office knocked on the door. Ma had refused to call back and was holding the line.

When Tod returned to the trailer, he was grimly uncommunicative. Joe was in some sort of trouble, and he had to go at once.

It was 10 before he returned. Rick and Nina had gone and he told Jenny the news. Joe had embezzled $800.

"It's a lucky thing he got caught before he was in any deeper," Tod said.

"But $800!" Jenny cried. I can't understand how he could have embezzled that much in such a short time."

"He bet on the races. He got in over his head and kept borrowing, like they always do, thinking next time he'd get a big winner and pay it back. Only it didn't work out that way, and today his boss wised up."

Jenny's mouth trembled. "Why should you and I shoulder the responsibility for keeping Joe out of jail?"

"He's my brother. That's why. Ma's had a hard enough time all these years trying to raise us kids, and anyway Joe never had much chance to amount to anything. Ma put everything on me, helping me at college and all. I hate it as much as you do, but Ma said—"

"I don't care what Ma said!" Jenny burst out wildly.

"You don't like her, do you?" Now it was Tod who was angry. "All along I been tryin' to tell her how wrong she was about you, how she'd like you if she'd give you half a chance, but maybe I've been wrong. Maybe she senses how you feel about her and that's the reason she resents you so."

THEY faced each other furiously. "If I don't like her it's her own fault! I wanted to get along, but you know the reception I got—"

"That's not got anything to do with this!" Tod shouted.

"But where are you going to get $800?"

He spoke in a defeated tone now, no longer strident with anger. "I wrote the guy a check. I'll have to sell the car. It's the only thing we've got that can be turned into cash."

Tod must hate giving up the car. She remembered his almost childish pride in it when he had bought it last spring.

But the car was the only thing they could turn into immediate cash. It seemed like pouring money down a rat hole to get Joe out of this jam, for it was probably only the beginning.

Yet, remembering that Joe had been the only one of the Duncans that had shown her the least kindness when she and Tod had been living with them, she hated to demand that Tod refuse to help.

Tod got a good price for the car because it was practically new, but when $800 was deducted, there wasn't much left. Worse than spending the money to get Joe out of a jam, was Tod's sense of divided allegiance which tore him between Ma and Jenny.

JOE left town and Ma was upset about that. If he missed going to see her she phoned the trailer camp, petulantly demanding why. Tod's visits to her dingy foul-smelling little walk-up apartment were anything but pleasant. Ma seemed to keep him discontented and riled up.

They quarreled one night, when Ma found out Jenny was going to have a baby, and Ma said a lot of hateful things. And when Tod tried to defend Jenny, she screamed at him, "All right, go ahead, stick up for Jenny. But you don't love her. Sooner or later you'll come to your senses."

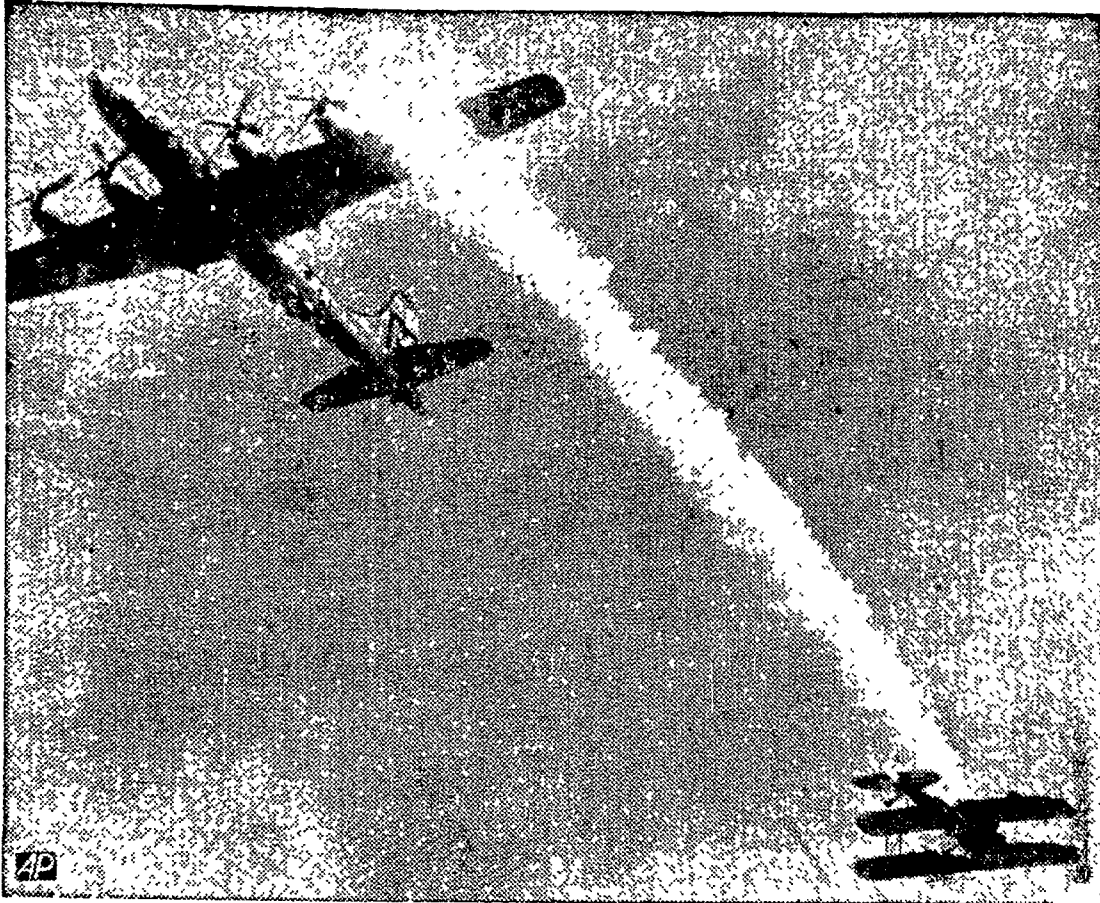

He slammed out of the apartment. He walked to the corner in the brisk November air, and the anger gradually died out of him.

How did Ma know? Could Jenny tell too?

He turned his back to the wind and started walking.

F. And L. Club Elects Officers

On September 30 the F. and L. club met at Cottage school and was reorganized into a branch of the R. Y. O.

Harry Morrison of the Farm Bureau and Miss Anna Lee Harvey of Tri-Community R. Y. O. gave some interesting facts about these clubs in America, and also gave pointers on things that should be done in such a club.

Officers elected who will take over their duties at the October meeting were: president, Wanda Rothenberger; vice president, Gerald Riecke; secretary and treasurer, Hazel Robinett; reporter, Paul Shippis and parliamentarian, Harlan Close.

A social meeting followed at which time pep songs were led by Miss Harvey who also led in several new games.

There will be a meeting on October 20 at Cottage school.

But Curly "Knows What The Score Is!"

Was over at Doc Sherman's drug store listening to the World Series on the radio. Curly Lawson wanders in and says: "How about a chocolate malted, Doc?"

"Sorry, Curly," says Doc, "can't make you a malted for a while yet." "What's the idea?" Curly asks. "Well," says Doc, "most of the folks want to hear the game and the mixer makes too much noise." Curly thinks a moment and says, "Okay with me, Doc—I'll take a chocolate soda!"

This shows how tolerant folks can be. Doc showed his respect for how the majority felt; Curly was big enough not to insist on his malted even though he doesn't happen to be fond of baseball.

From where I sit, willingness to respect the other people's feelings is important in a Democracy. If we're tolerant of a person's like for baseball or a glass of temperate beer, we've come a long way on the right road... the road to a better America, that is!

Community News from Green Ridge

Mrs. Verna Palmer

A reception and basket supper honoring the school teachers of the Green Ridge schools was held on Wednesday night, September 28th, at the Green Ridge Presbyterian church basement.

Guests of honor were Superintendent and Mrs. Maynard Jones and son, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Sappinfield, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Hutcherson and sons, Mrs. Nannie Sims, Miss Grace Still, Miss Josephine Johnson, Mrs. F. L. Calvert, Miss Gayle Kendrick and Mrs. Elbert Close and Mr. and Mrs. George White. Following the supper which was served cafeteria style a program was presented. Reverend J. G. W. Kirschner presented a short talk and introduced Mr. M. R. Hutcherson, who in turn introduced the school teachers. Pep songs were sung by the group assembled, led by Mrs. Roy Ragar with Mrs. L. B. Beach at the piano. The men's quartette, L. L. Ream, H. H. Ream, L. B. Beach and Russell Miller sang several selections.

Hostesses were Mrs. Charles Ward, Mrs. Loy Smith, Mrs. Roy Ragar, Mrs. Alva Lett, Mrs. G. D. Rayburr, Mrs. Rance Ray and Mrs. L. H. Wadleigh.

There were approximately seventy-five persons present.

A regional Junior Red Cross conference was held at the Central Missouri State college in Warburg Saturday, September 24th with more than one hundred high school students and instructors in attendance. Students of the Green Ridge high school under the direction of Mrs. Nannie Sims presented one of the outstanding numbers on the program, a skit entitled "Boxes of Friendship." Students taking part were Susie Ballah, Joyce Hoover, Ellen Fern Miller, Margie Ragar, Joyce Stewart and June White. The students filled the eleven boxes used in the skit and presented them to the Pettis county Red Cross Chapter. This makes Green Ridge the first school in the county to complete the filling of their Junior Red Cross gift boxes and one of the largest number of gift boxes to be filled by one school.

Approximately one hundred people attended the miscellaneous shower that was held for Mr. and Mrs. Junior Brownfield, a recent bride and bridegroom, which was held at the home of Mr. Brownfield, near Green Ridge, Saturday night, October 1st. Mrs. H. H. Hite, Mrs. G. D. Rayburr, Mrs. L. H. Wadleigh, Mrs. J. A. Gordon and Mrs. Lloyd Brown were hostesses and served sandwiches, cookies and coffee to the group. The bride and bridegroom opened their gifts of which there were 106 and the evening was spent in conversation and card games. Mr. and Mrs. Brownfield will make their home with his father, Jesse Brownfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Baslee entertained guests in their home in Green Ridge recently on Sunday. Included in the group were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Baslee and daughter Jewel, Mrs. William Baslee, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baslee, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Baslee, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lee Baslee and son Ricky, Mr. and Mrs. Otis McNew, James McNew, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harbit and son Hollis, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ragar and Mrs. Oliver Nefendorf and son Warren Claude. After dinner guests in the home were Mr. W. H. Trone and Mrs. Frank Mackey.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Cook of Smithton and Ray Cook and daughter Afan, who are here from their home in the state of Kentucky, were in Green Ridge recently as guests of Mrs. Cook's mother, Mrs. Thomas Neale, and her sister, Mrs. R. W. Stewart, and Mr. Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. Quintin Binder, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hoover, G. T. Murphy and J. Stark attended a meeting of the seventh district of the American Legion which was held last Sunday in Higginsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Schall of Toledo, Ohio, spent Sunday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gordon and Mr. H. M. Stark at their home in Green Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Arnett and daughter Betty Lou, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tucker and children Betty Jean and Bobby, Mrs. Edna Ryan and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Ryan, all of the Green Ridge community and Mr. and Mrs. James Stark of Sedalia were guests last Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Arnett in Houstonia. They also visited with Mrs. Elsie Tratchel and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tratchel and daughter Patty of Newton, Iowa. During the afternoon they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ryan and with Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan and children of Manhattan, Kas.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Stewart and daughter Joyce and Mrs. Thomas Neale entertained guests at their homes Monday of last week. Visitors were Mrs. Minok Neale and Mrs. J. R. Vershota of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Jimmie Stillwell and Marguerite Kiriene of Slater and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stewart of Boonville.

Miss Joyce Kubli Archives Queen

Miss Joyce Kubli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Kubli, 200 West 14th street, has been elected as the 1950 Archives Queen. This queen has the honor of presiding over the annual Archives Ball, which is the Smith-Cotton Christmas dance. Miss Kubli was selected by the members of student body who publish this year's annual. She is a senior this year, as are all the attendants. These are as follows: Miss Alberta Runge, Miss Patty Croy, Miss Barbara Tweet and Miss Margaret Wade.

Active On School Projects

Miss Kubli is sixteen and has been active in all the school projects. She was Junior Queen in the "Queen of Jean" contest and is very active in Speech work.

The sale of the Archives was concluded Tuesday and the announcement of the queen was made during the afternoon. The method for voting for the queen candidate was that each individual, who bought an annual, cast a ballot for one of the nominees.

The Archives staff headed by Mrs. Thelma Cook worked hard during the drive and are still working toward the end when the book is delivered to the students. Although this week has been very active for the staff members they were relieved by a party which was given by Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Reed at their lake house at Spring Fork. All members were present and enjoyed a chicken barbecue. After which a business meeting was held.

The staff was pleased with the selection of queen from the fine group of girls who were candidates and look forward to the Archives Ball when she will be crowned.

Just Has to Keep Singing Says Jolson

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK—(P)—There is a Broadway saying that Al Jolson didn't invent hokum—he just found a way to put it in the bank.

And at 64 the King of Schmalz is still a young man working overtime to keep the wolf from his door.

His fellow entertainers say, however, this isn't a necessity now—it's a habit. They estimate that nasty old wolf would have to chaw through $4,000,000 to $15,000,000 in greenbacks before he could cross the Jolson threshold.

I dropped in on the timeless mammy singer the other night, and found him still as energetic as a boy on a pogo stick.

"Come in, Kid," he said, jaunty in a pigeon blue robe decorated with his initials in red. He bounced over to a hotel chair.

"This robe cost me $150,000," he remarked. "A broker gave it to me—but I bought some of his stock."

For the next hour Al kept up a running fire of wisecracks on his past, present and future. There's one thing about the old-time entertainers—they put on as good a show for one listener as they do for a packed house.

At the moment Jolson is still collecting from "the Jolson story" and waiting for the golden harvest from "Jolsen Sings Again" to roll in. He's in the spot of a man who can't make any more money by working—because of the tax laws—but he still wants to keep busy. Mr. Whiskers has got "Sonny Boy" crying Uncle.

"I had to pay a million dollars in taxes last year," he grimaced. "The worst thing is they want you to show receipts and data."

"I don't even have dis-a, how'm I going to show 'em data?"

The phone rang in the bedroom. It was his wife, Earle, calling from California. Jolson's outraged voice echoed into the living room:

"What! Twelve hundred 'nd fifty? Wait until I get out there. Don't do a thing until then. I'll call you day after tomorrow. What, dear? Awright. No. Awright. No. Awright, dear, I'll call you tomorrow. Awright tomorrow."

Hard for Simple Life

Al came back in, indignant. "Can ya imagine. We're addin' on a couple small rooms. They want $1250 just to throw on some paint and hang a few draperies." Jolson said he and his wife tried to live a simple life in the San Fernando valley, but it was hard.

INCA COSTUMES IN BELGIUM—Charleroi youngsters, in costumes said to have been inspired by the Incas of the western hemisphere, march in a parade in Brussels, Belgium.

"You just can't lead a normal life," he grinned. "You have a butler, a maid, a cook, a place at Palm Springs—and they aren't deducts with the tax boys. And if you drive a jalopy out there, why they call you names."

"If you can get away for anything less than $1,500 a week I'll eat it."

Jolson has a formula for staying young—the same formula mentioned long ago by Aristotle, "Nothing in excess."

"I don't overeat and I don't oversleep," he said. "And Harry Truman gave me a good tip. He told me, 'If you quit, you die.'"

"I know it sounds corny, but what I'd like to do is go home and play with my kids. I don't know how."

"I'm a bigger success than I ever was. Now I want to sit down and play—and I don't know how. That's what I want—and I don't want. I'm a ham. I have to keep on singing, even if it's only in my bathroom."

I asked Al what he liked to read, and he said:

"Well, I don't waste my time reading books about what will happen when the animals take over the world."

"To hell with that. The animals took over long ago." All but that wolf. He'll never get past Al's door.

Reports Given to Flat Creek Club

The Flat Creek Extension club held its September meeting at the home of Mrs. Isaac Snow with 22 members attending. Visitors were Miss Lillian Watkins, home agent, Mrs. Amanda Cordes, Mrs. Herman Cordes and Mrs. W. A. Ball.

Mrs. Ball became a new member. A contributed luncheon was served at noon. Mrs. J. T. Edmundson called the business meeting to order. Mrs. Snow led in singing the club song. Miss Lulu Monroe led the devotional. Roll call was answered with "the best vacation I ever had."

Various committees gave reports. Mrs. Ralph Milburn reported on the dinner the club served at the "Grow Grass" demonstration day. Members' yearly reports were turned in to the secretary.

Mrs. R. C. Wissman, Mrs. H. E. Logan and Mrs. R. E. McCowan were appointed as a committee to plan a wiener roast sometime in October.

Mrs. Logan, as child development chairman, led a discussion on the Fears of Children. Many helpful views as to the cause of

Camera Club Adds Members

The Sedalia Camera Club held its regular meeting Tuesday night at the home of Robert Zoernig, 236 South Prospect avenue, with four regular and seven new members in attendance.

A demonstration of "open flash photography" was presented by Kent Damrill and Bob Zoernig. That method of flash photography can be used with the simple box-camera.

Print judging was held with seven prints being judged. The winning one was a portrait made by Bob Zoernig.

A motion was made and passed to combine the offices of vice-president, secretary-treasurer and club press correspondent. Glen McVey was elected to this office.

A class of photographic fundamentals will be held next meeting for the benefit of the club's new members. Anyone wishing to attend this class may do so.

The next meeting will be at the home of Glen McVey, 1111 West Seventh street, Tuesday, October 18.

Bus Trip For Green Ridge Class

The senior class of the Green Ridge high school received their class rings last week and they all went on a bus trip accompanied by their sponsor, Mr. Gerald Walker, the bus driver, Gordon Brownfield, Mrs. Brownfield and son Duane. They went to Jefferson city and visited the capital. McClurg park and the penitentiary. On the trip back to Green Ridge they visited Bagnell Dam. While there they went on a two hour cruise on the ship Idle Time, after which they returned to Green Ridge.

"Buick's the Buy"

It's part of every street scene—something you see every day.

Car owners in three different price classes—all happy about the same thing.

One of them drives a new Buick SPECIAL, which you see poking forth its new, bold-look forefront at the left of our picture.

Another will tell you there's nothing like the SUPER's "happy medium" of size and comfort, power and easy handling, style and standing.

And if you're looking for prestige, where is your money going to buy so much as in that handsome 18-footer, the ROADMASTER, with its 150-hp performance and really royal bearing?

But all these good folks get together on this:

There's no ride quite so soft and cushiony as the Buick ride, whatever the size and series. There's no power quite so satisfyingly lively as Buick's high-compression, high-pressure Fireball power.

Above all, there's no "buy" like a Buick—no car that gives you such a rich dollar's worth of smartness, handling, comfort and liveliness for every dollar you pay.

So why not look the whole line over? Your Buick dealer has these grand travel-mates in a baker's dozen of different body types and sizes. Start your shopping in his showroom—and you'll find that even on delivery he has exactly what you want.

BUICK alone has all these features

Silk-smooth DYNAFLOW DRIVE* • FULL-VIEW VISION from enlarged glass area • SWING-EASY DOORS and easy access • "LIVING SPACE" INTERIORS with Deep-Cradle cushions • Buoyant-riding QUADRUFLUX COIL SPRINGING • Lively FIREBALL STRAIGHT-EIGHT POWER with SELF-SETTING VALVE LIFTERS (Dynaflo Models) plus HI-POISED ENGINE MOUNTINGS • Low-pressure tires on SAFETY-RIDE RIMS • Double-Duty VENTIPORTS • DUREX BEARINGS, main and connecting rods • BODY BY FISHER

Jekyll-Hyde TV Camera

NEW YORK—(AP)—Here's a trick of the television trade: To overcome the difficulty of trying to show the transformation of one person into another, the basis of the story of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," a special camera arrangement has been effected. As Dr. Jekyll slowly becomes his "other self," the camera is made to interpret the action as if it were the eyes of Hyde.

Hyde as a person is not seen, only Dr. Jekyll before and after the change.

Reynolds Vs Newcombe In Today's Game

Roe May Take Over And Joe Page May Rescue Reynolds

By Gayle Talbot

NEW YORK, Oct. 5—(P)—It will be Allie Reynolds, the sturdy papoose from Oklahoma City, against either big Don Newcombe or Elwin (Preacher) Roe when the Yankees and the Dodgers lock horns in the opening game of the '49 world series today at Yankee stadium.

Reynolds at least will start for the American league champions. That is on the word of Manager Casey Stengel. It will surprise no one, least of all old "Case," if Fireman Joe Page is in there throwing his bullets before the last Brooklyn batter is out.

Though he boasts a shining record of 17 victories against six defeats for the torrid campaign just ended, Reynolds pitched only four complete games. Page rescued the righthander more times than Joe DiMaggio said "hello nurse."

Shotton Want Crowds Choice

Adhering to a policy he established in his first world series two years ago, manager Burt Shotton of the Brooks declined either to name his starter or to concede that it was a choice between Newcombe and Roe.

But the experts could not imagine the gray-haired pilot entrusting the big first game to any other member of his somewhat uncertain staff. Newcombe, the 235-pound Negro freshman, and Roe, the canny southpaw veteran, were the backbone of the Dodgers' flag drive.

A major mystery developed around mid-day when Carl Furillo, slugging Brooklyn right-fielder who blasted for an amazing .431 average in the last 46 games of the season, told newsmen he wouldn't be able to play tomorrow "unless the doctor performs a miracle."

Furillo, whose throwing arm is one of the most feared in the big leagues, said he pulled something loose in his groin when he slid into third in the final game against the Phillies Sunday at Shibe Park.

"I took four swings in batting practice yesterday and had to quit," said the Stony Creek, Pa., product. "I can't hit and I can't run. If I play I'll do more harm than good."

But Shotton mystified the same newsmen by announcing calmly that Furillo would start in right field today. He wouldn't even name a possible alternate.

Stengel Also Holds Out

Casey Stengel of the Yanks, another oldtime player of the percentages, will not name his man at three positions until just before game time, when he sees whether it is Roe or Newcombe for the opposition.

If it's Roe, the southpaw, he will crowd three righthand batters into the middle and lower end of his order—Billy Johnson at third, Johnny Lindell in left field and Hank Bauer in right. If it's Newcombe, three lefties will swing for the beckoning rightfield stands at the stadium—Bobby Brown at third, Gene Woodling in left and Cliff Mape in right field.

DiMaggio will play, no matter who pitches for Brooklyn. The biggest bomber of them all still is weak from his recent virus infection and is afraid to step on a scale to see how many pounds he lost.

The betting odds still were in the Yankees' favor yesterday and Brooklyn supporters, despite their professed confidence in their heroes, were insisting upon a cushion of around 17 to 10 in man-to-man action.

Only at second base, where the .342 hitting Jackie Robinson holds forth, are the Brooks conceded a definite inflexible edge. Only the doubtful Furillo has stamped himself a better rightfielder than any the Yankees can show.

Majority of Press Poll Pick Yakees to Win

NEW YORK, Oct. 5—(P)—A whopping majority of baseball writers polled by the Associated Press pick the Yankees to defeat the Dodgers in the World Series scheduled to open at Yankee stadium today.

Thirty-three of 52 scribes selected the American League pennant winners as against 19 for their National League rivals.

The selections included: Hugh Fullerton, Associated Press New York—Yankees in 4. Gayle Talbot, Associated Press New York—Yankees in 6. Jack Hand, Associated Press New York—Yankees in 6. Joe Reichler, Associated Press New York—Brooklyn in 4. Ted Smith, Associated Press—Brooklyn in 6.

His Big Day!

Bruce Howard, a nine-year-old victim of New York's 1949 infantile paralysis epidemic, has a good reason for the wide smile he displays at his New York home. Not only was he to see the opening game of the World Series at Yankee Stadium, but was chosen to throw out the first ball. He was the guest of Commissioner A. B. Chandler. The youngster was chosen to represent thousands of polio victims assisted by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. (AP Wirephoto)

A Tough Test For Aggies Against Tigers

Four of Aggies' Key Players Were Injured Last Week

By Skipper Patrick

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 5—(P)—Every Big Seven team has its good sophomores this season, but it's doubtful that any compare with Kansas State in the rookie department.

The only two sophomore backs in the top fifteen ball carriers after two or more games are K-State's Hiram (Hi) Faubion and Elmer Creviston.

Faubion, a slender long-stepper from Phillipsburg, Kas., has the best average in the league for players with 12 or more carries—8 yards for each of his 22 trips. He's also tied with Oklahoma's George Thomas in number of touchdowns scored. Each has five. But Thomas has three conversions for a total of 33 points and the conference lead.

A perfect passing record of two-out-of-two, one for a touchdown field today. He wouldn't even name a possible alternate.

Stengel Also Holds Out

Casey Stengel of the Yanks, another oldtime player of the percentages, will not name his man at three positions until just before game time, when he sees whether it is Roe or Newcombe for the opposition.

Mad at Arkansas

L. R. (Dutch) Meyer (above) coach of the Texas Christian university football team, has protested what he termed Arkansas' "rough" tactics and "flagrant" violation of rules. Arkansas beat Meyer's team, 27 to 7, last Saturday. (AP Wirephoto)

Hastings College Really Didn't Mean It

HASTINGS, Neb., Oct. 5—(P)—The smooth Hastings college marching band was going through an intricate movement as it spelled "hello" to the visitors at the Hastings-St. Louis college game.

But somehow the "O" formation got on the wrong end of the line.

The director's whistle sent the blushing bandmen scampering back to the more devious position. Hastings won 37-0.

Plenty Hologs For World Series Fans

NEW YORK, Oct. 5—(P)—The catering company which serves the fans in both Yankee stadium and Ebbets Field says that the spectators at an ordinary ball game in Yankee stadium average two hot dogs each per game.

Those in Ebbets Field average about three each "because many of the Ebbets Field fans eat at least one hot dog an inning."

Mrs. Charles M. Price Elected President of Women's Golf Assn.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5—(P)—Mrs. Charles M. Price of Glenview, Ill., today was elected 1950 president of the Women's Western Golf Association. She succeeds Mrs. Philip G. Lenz of Chicago.

The W. W. G. A.'s 1950 invitational open tourney will be held at Cherry Hills Country club, Denver, Colo., June 19-24, and the 50th amateur meet at Exmoor Country club, Chicago, Aug. 14-19.

A Most Sought Player of Year Signs Up With St. Louis Browns

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5—(P)—The St. Louis Browns have signed a 19-year-old pitcher described by vice president Charles De Witt as "the most sought after player of the year."

He is Burke McLaughlin who hails from Eden, Ala.

In announcing his signing yesterday, De Witt said Burke pitched this summer for a Navy team at a Sn Diego, winning 22 games and losing 3. The rookie will report and losing three.

The rookie will report to the Browns' spring training camp.

Returned Cardinal Tickets Are Marked "Souvenir"

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5—(P)—While you're listening to the World Series, give a thought to the St. Louis Cardinals.

They're returning your series tickets. But they are marked "Souvenir." Checks, more than 100,000 of them, are being returned too.

Etchison To Meet Mills In Match Tonight

Badui And Sirois In Opener; Isoberg And Suzek In Semi-Finals

Tonight's Wrestling Matches

(In the Sedalia Armory)
Feature Match—Ronnie Etchison, 228, St. Joseph, Mo., vs. Lord Albert Mills, 240, London, England. Best two out of three falls to a finish.
Semi-final Match—Lon Isoberg, 223, Minneapolis, vs. Jack Suzek, 234, Chicago. Best two out of three falls, or a 45-minute time limit.
Special Match—Walter Sirois, 220, Montreal, Canada, vs. Emir Badui, 220, Lebanon. One fall or a 30-minute time limit.
Matches start at 8:30 Wednesday night.
Under auspices of Pettis County Post No. 16.
Referee—Jack Hader.

Three top-notch matches will start off the 1949-50 wrestling season with plenty of action in the Sedalia Armory ring tonight. Heading the six-man heavy-weight slate is the popular Missourian, Ronnie Etchison of St. Joseph.

Etchison, always a great favorite among Armory fans, will launch his drive for title recognition against Lord Albert Mills, the hefty 240-pound Englishman. And this match spells a fast, rugged battle, from start to finish.

Into Heavyweight Limelight
Ronnie jumped into the nation's heavyweight limelight two weeks ago when he created the biggest upset in recent years by jolting Chief Chewchki, a 247-pounder from Ardmore, Okla., in the Kansas City ring. Chewchki, one of the biggest names in wrestling for many years, was the odds-on favorite to trounce Etchison.

His brilliant record during the summer season in the Ohio valley region has gained Ronnie nationwide attention.

Matchmaker Pearl Christy will use the semi-final spot to introduce another rising star on the wrestling horizon. The newcomer to this city will be Lon Isoberg of Minneapolis. This towering Swede is destined to go places in the mat sport, and fast. He is riding the crest of a victory wave in the northwestern states and he hopes to extend that streak in the midwest.

Joeberg's first test will be against the well-seasoned Jack Suzek of Chicago. Their meeting is scheduled to go the best two of three falls. Suzek is a rougher, and a torrid pace-setter. Joeberg can expect to be extended to the limit of endurance.

The special match will mark the return of Walter Sirois, the French-Canadian, to the Armory. Although none too popular with the fans because of his rowdy ring tactics, Sirois has always produced thrilling matches. He will meet Arabian Emir Badui, the kingdom of Lebanon titlist, in the 1-fall opener.

Jack Hader, who proved to be an excellent referee in matches here last season, has been contracted to officiate the opening mat program.

Bawled Out

When the New York Knickerbockers started basketball practice at Bear Mountain Monday, Coach Joe Lapchick began to give a lecture on fundamentals. . . . He signalled the club's equipment man to hand him a basketball. . . . After a quick look around, the equipment man whispered something into Joe's ear, and Lapchick changed signals. . . . Seems nobody had remembered to bring a basketball.

Pigskin Pickins

N. Y. U. vs. Brooklyn college New York U.

All Brooklyn fans know Is the Bronx team that has No DiMaggio.

Texas vs. Oklahoma

The Cowboys, coached by Wilkinson (Bud)

Will throw the Steers with a sickening thud.

Cornell vs. Harvard

We think the Cornellians Will score like hellions.

Pittsburgh vs. West Virginia

Before West Virginia is torn to bits

Let's call the Miners out of the Pits.

North Carolina vs. South Carolina

What those governors said, And I hope you'll trust us, Was: "We need a governor On choo choo justice."

Cleaning the Cuff

Band Leader Guy Lombardo will spend about 2,000 bucks to have his orchestra play at Yankee stadium during the series. He isn't being paid for it, but he's giving his musicians full pay, buying lunches, etc., and also has invited their wives to attend the games at his expense. . . . Some one has estimated that 75 miles of hot dogs will be sold during the series. If they were laid end to end, it would be very wasteful.

... Add Yankee hospital list: The cocker spaniel presented to Joe DiMaggio Saturday promptly contracted a cold and Joe had to send for the vet. . . . Yogi Berra's comment on the Yankee victory (as reported in one local paper): "They said we hadn't ought to do it, but we did."

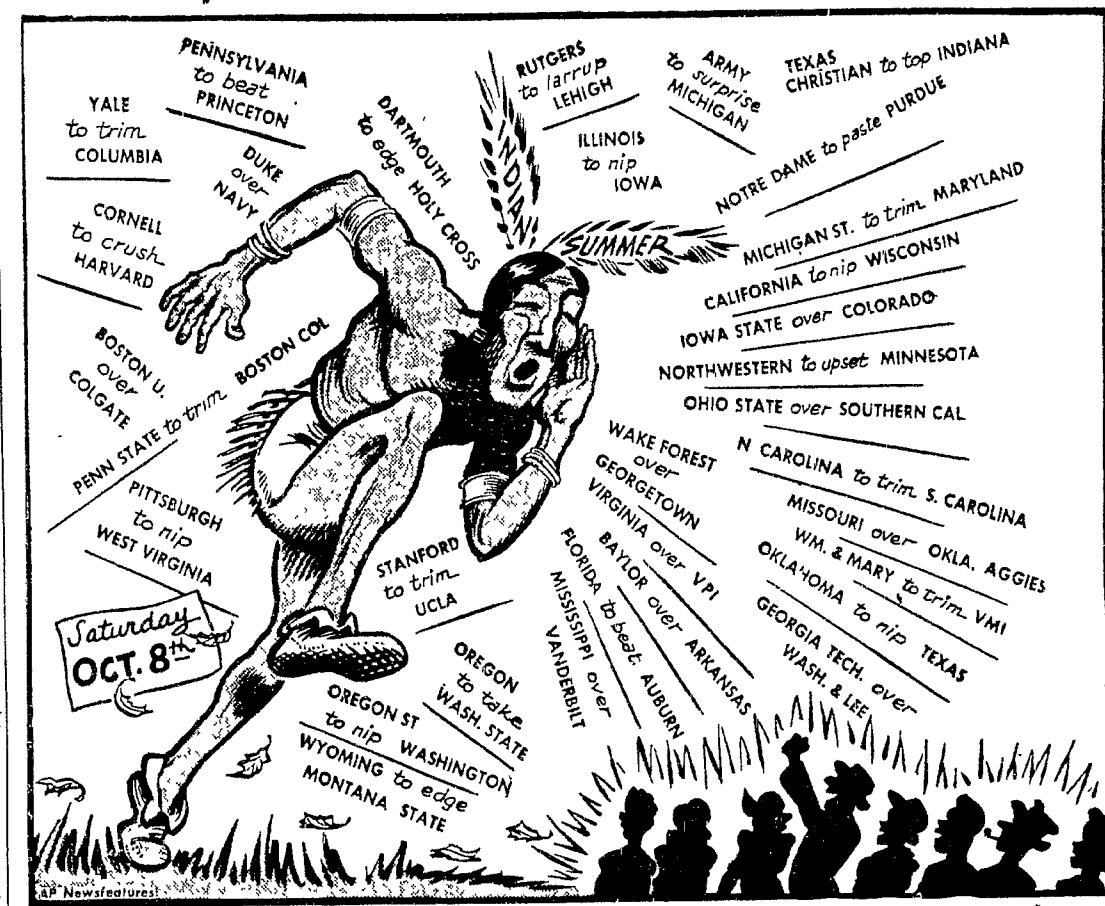

Smithton To Play Woolridge Sunday

The Smithton Hornets will meet the Woolridge ball club at 2:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon on the Smithton diamond.

Battle Cry--

• Sport Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5—(P)—Perhaps it seems strange that two clubs which go in for farm operations in a big way, the Yankees and Dodgers, will be opening the World Series with pitchers developed by other teams. . . .

Allie Reynolds, manager Casey Stengel's choice, was brought up to be a Cleveland Indian and came to New York in the Joe Gordon deal two years ago. . . .

Preacher Roe, who is expected to get the call from Barney Shotton, belonged to the Cardinals and pitched four seasons for Pittsburgh before he was shipped to Brooklyn with Billy Cox in a package deal. . . . Of course, that's just another indication that it's due to be a wacky series. . . .

Two other Yankee mound reliables, Eddie Lopat and Fred Sanford, came from the notably weak White Sox and Browns. And, of course, Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella and Don Newcombe were trained in the Negro baseball leagues. . . . Then there's Mike McCormick, who played for the Braves last fall and the Reds in 1940 and who now unexpectedly finds himself collecting another series share. . . . And Hugh Casey, who pitched in nine games as a Dodger in the 1941 and 1947 series, is on the Yankee bench handing out advice about his former teammates.

Radio—Mutual broadcasting system (12:45 p. m., EST).

Television—all networks on pool basis.

Pitchers—Allie Reynolds (17-8) either Don Newcombe (17-8) or Elwin (Preacher) Roe (15-6) for Dodgers.

Weather forecast—cloudy, possible rain late in afternoon.

Previous series records—Brooklyn five National league, no world series championships; New York 16 American league pennants, 11 world championships

Great Celebration For The Dodgers

BROOKLYN, Oct. 5—(P)—A great celebration rocked this borough from Greenport to Coney Island yesterday as its inhabitants paid tribute to the Brooklyn Dodgers, baseball champions of the National league.

The celebration was twofold—first to cheer the Dodgers for winning the pennant, and secondly to give them a rousing send-off into the world series opening with the New York Yankees today.

A hundred thousand Brooklynites lined Flatbush avenue and Fulton street to yell themselves hoarse during a mammoth motorized parade for the Dodger players. Fifteen hundred police were on hand, but the fans were orderly and there were no arrests.

There was dancing in the streets to 25 Brooklyn bands, guaranteed to be the world's loudest if not the most musical. The Yankees were hanged in effigy from a Brooklyn lamp-post.

Two Golf Titleholders Hold Exhibition Meet

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 5—(P)—Charlie Coe and Dr. Cary Middlecoff, two national titleholders, were scheduled to tee off against each other in an 18-hole golf exhibition here this afternoon.

Coe, national amateur champion from Oklahoma City, and Jimmy Gauntt, professional at the host Twin Hills Country club, will match shots with national open champion Middlecoff and Frankie Stranahan, the Walker cupper from Toledo, Ohio.

Heavy Fines Due Cheating
WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Oct. 5 (AP)—Two men convicted of cheating at cards here have been fined a total of $19,300 and sentenced to one year in jail by Circuit Judge C. W. Ferguson.
Court attaches said it was the largest fine ever levied in Mingo circuit court.
The men, Junior Mullitt and Oliver Newsome, who were tried in Williamson yesterday, were accused of cheating Kiryl Georgeff of $5,860 in a poker game last May 3.
The West Virginia code provides that anyone convicted of cheating at cards be sentenced to not more than 12 months in jail and fined five times the amount won in the shady game.
As Mullitt was leaving the courtroom, deputies overheard him tell Georgeff: "x x x I will come back and kill you."
Mullitt was called back into court and pleaded guilty to contempt of court charges. Judge Ferguson fined him $100 and sentenced him to three additional months on the charge.
Reds Throw in Reinforcements
CANTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Red reinforcements were thrown into the battle for Kukong today.
Loss of the key city, 125 miles north of Canton, would sever communications between this provisional capital and Gen. Pai Chungshi's Nationalist forces in Hunan province.
The Communist reinforcements moved to the battlefield along the highway from Kiangsi province.
All schools in Kukong were closed. Children and thousands of adults were fleeing the city.
Further north in Hunan province the Reds bolstered their forces around Jucheng, 170 miles north of Canton, with an estimated 5,000 reinforcements.
Dispatches said Nationalist warplanes were supporting Pai's troops in this area.
Official Nationalist dispatches claimed the Communist 47th division was surrounded near Sinhwa, 95 miles northwest of Hengyang.
Central news agency said a typhoon struck the Amoy area today bringing a temporary halt in fighting on the mainland. Nationalist warships, however, shelled junkies the Reds were commandeering for an assault on Amoy.

Skill Pays Off In Bottle Washing
SYDNEY—(P)—There's a $4 a week skill margin for bottle washers in Australia. This margin is on top of the basic wage—$20.80 in Sydney.
The rate was set by Conciliation Commissioner D. V. Morrison on the application of the Liquor and Allied Trades Employees Union. Morrison said the award will apply to persons employed in bottle stores or bottle yards.
A small gas turbine has been developed, suitable for use in future motor vehicles. Weighing only 150 pounds, it produces up to 200 horsepower.

MADE IN YUGOSLAVIA—For summer use only, this roofless car, shown at a trade fair in Zagreb, Yugoslavia, has a five-horsepower engine and can travel 35 miles an hour.

Crime is on the increase— During the first six months of 1949, according to the FBI's semi-annual report, crime in the United States was greater than during the corresponding period in 1948. These charts, based on the FBI data, show comparative percent. Sharpest upturn was in amounts of crime—offenses rural area burglaries, while the known to police—during the greatest decline was in negligent two periods. Crime in rural areas manslaughter in cities.

SCOOP-WING PLANE MAKES "EVERY LAWN AN AIRPORT"—A New Jersey manufacturer has produced this light plane, designed for house-to-house travel and "able to land on any good-sized lawn." Called the Paraplane, the craft has gull-like wings which scoop in the air to allow for steep descent and extra-slow landing. Overhead, the plane has the appearance of a big bat.

LOVE IN BLOOM (HIPPO STYLE)—After 383 hours of flirting and nose-rubbing through separating barriers, "Knautschke" finally gets close enough to his lady-friend, "Grete," to engage in a little smooching. (hippopotamus style). The two light-hearted hippos became acquainted at their mutual home in the Berlin Zoo after "Grete" was imported from Leipzig in Germany's Soviet Zone.

Trucker Drives Up The Town
BRISBANE—(P)—One-legged John Edmund Page, 23, drove a truck through Brisbane one night. Says he can't remember the drive. But the prosecutor in the police court, jogged Page's memory when he described the drive to the magistrate. The prosecutor got the story from a policeman who chased Page's truck on a motor cycle. During the chase, Page:—
Passed a tram, grazing the front cabin. Passed a stationary tram on the wrong side at a speed between 60 and 70 mph. Ignored a stop order from the pursuing policeman.
Overtook two cars driving side-by-side. Knocked another car off the road. Passed another stationary tram on the wrong side. Hit another car off the road. Struck still another car and capsized it. Hit the rear of a stationary truck outside the Brisbane hospital. Forced the stationary truck into a car in front, which was pushed onto the footpath. Was thrown out of his truck by the jolt. Landed on his head. Was taken into the hospital.
Page pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving. He was fined $166.

Blue Plate Special, With Drink
CAIRO—(P)—Found in Egypt: the free lunch which disappeared from the corner bar in Grandpa's day.
A local bar serves with each beer: a plate containing tuna fish, roast beef and liver; two rolls; plates of olives, peanuts and cucumber squares; a heap of thin, dry Arab bread, and a plate of tehena, delicious oily grain sauce. Arabs dip their bread into. Steaks are extra.

Gov. Smith Is In A Political 'Hot Seat'

Racketeers Sneaking Back Into Missouri Says Magazine

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 5—(P)—The Saturday Evening Post says racketeers are sneaking back into Missouri, making Gov. Forrest Smith's chair a political hot seat.

Joe Alex Morris, the Post writer, reviews the Missouri political scene in an article "Can the Rackets Recapture Missouri?", scheduled for publication today.

He tells about the rise to political prominence of Charles Binaggio, the north side Kansas City leader, and concludes:

"There will doubtless be many changes in the political weather in Missouri in the next year or so, but some of the state's most astute prophets are now convinced that only a miraculously big blow will stop Binaggio's canoe."

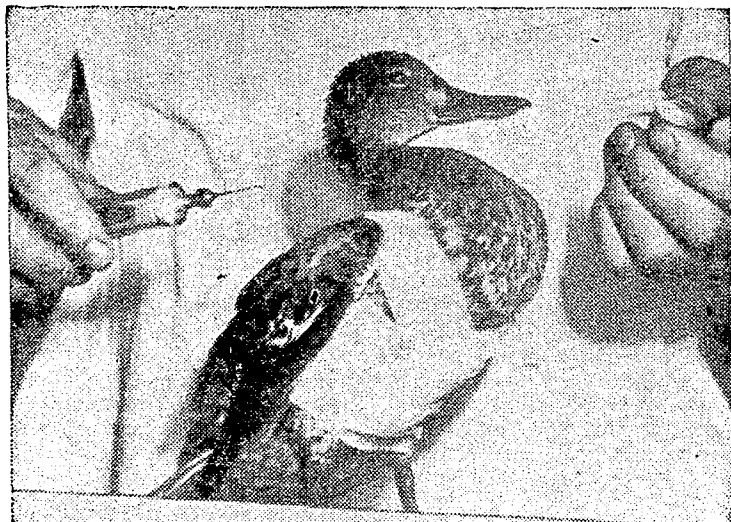

Describes The Governor

Morris describes Smith as a big, comfortable man such as you might find in any county courthouse, and adds:

"For 35 years he plodded methodically up through party ranks to the top of Missouri's Democratic hierarchy, only to discover that the big chair behind the governor's desk was a political hot seat."

"The heat that has prevented Governor Smith from relaxing comfortably in his chair since his inauguration last January is being generated by the return, after a decade in exile, of the political racketeers who once plagued Missouri's cities in an era of gangsterism, wide-open gambling and corrupt machine politics under the late Boss Tom Pendergast."

The governor said today he

DUCK IN DRYDOCK—Injured while making a forced landing in Des Moines, Ia., this bandaged and battered duck got the very best of care at a local pet hospital. After taking 14 stitches in the duck's breast, the doc waves a bit of cotton to attract the patient's attention and then shoots a batch of penicillin into him. The luckless duck will be up and around again in no time.

had not read the article and had nothing to say about it.

Morris notes that Smith has announced he will enforce the laws.

"x x x But hoodlums are notoriously hard of hearing," he says, "and in Missouri they gave little evidence that they were able to grasp the meaning of his words."

Watching Truman's State

"As a result, the nation's political observers are watching President Truman's home state with mounting interest, in expectation of an explosive climax in the racketeers' comeback campaign, which might have progressed even farther but for the vigilance of such newspapers as the Post-Dispatch and Star-Times in St. Louis, the Kansas City Star and Times and the St. Joseph Gazette and News-Press."

Morris says the unsolved Kansas City slaying of Wolf C. Rimmann last March 24 was the signal that racketeering was showing signs of life.

He mentions Binaggio's political alliances with Henry McKisick and George Clark of Kansas

Poison Kills A Kirksville Child

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., Oct. 5—(P)—A boy obtained the poison which a witness testified is used as an anaesthetic.

A 3-year old brother, Gale Mason, is recovering from the same poison, officers said. On the evening that Alvin died, the younger boy became ill and was taken to a hospital where his stomach was pumped out.

The boys' mother, Mable Mason, testified that she was downtown at a movie when the boys became ill. The whereabouts of their father, George Mason, are not known.
